John XXIII Asks Rulers Stop Strife

Continues Battle For Peace Waged By Pope Pius XII

By FRANK BRUTTO

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII broadcast an appeal to all rulers of the world today to work for peace. His call was in the tradition of his predecessor Pope Pius XII.

The new sovereign pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church, broadcasting from the Sistine Chapel less than 20 hours after his election, urged that weapons of destruction be converted into tools of progress.

His swords-into-plowshares appeal was taken as a firm sign that he intends to continue the fight for peace which made Pius XII known as the "Pope of Peace."

Pope John — Angelo Giuseppe Cardinal Roncalli, patriarch of Venice, until his election Tuesday by the College of Cardinals — prayed to God for strength and courage in his new tasks. He called especially upon the Virgin Mary for assistance.

Speaks In Firm Voice

The 76-year-old Pope spoke in Latin for 20 minutes in a firm and powerful voice. Before the address, he received the homage of the 51 cardinals gathered in the chapel.

He asked God's help for those in countries where there is no religious freedom—an indirect reference to Communist-ruled nations—and for all who "suffer. He told those who "have in their hands the fate of the peoples" that peace comes from the interior soul and cannot be imposed.

His quickness in going before the radio to give his thoughts to the world was taken as a sign that he intends his reign to be a dynamic one. Radio was one of the means frequently used by his predecessor to give his messages to the world and to try to reach the peoples of Soviet Russia, Red China and other Communist-dominated lands.

The new Pope is expected to be crowned within two weeks.

The jeweled, three-tiered tiara of the papacy, topped by golden orb and cross, perhaps will be placed upon his head Sunday, Nov. 9, in the climax at St. Peter's Basilica of the drama that began with the fatal illness of Pope Pius at Castel Gandolfo.

Vatican authorities prepared today for the coronation, the most colorful ceremony of the Roman Catholic Church, while messages of congratulation and best wishes poured in from chiefs of state and government heads of many nations.

After his broadcast, Pope John ordered the reopening of the doors of the conclave area, where 51 princes of the church had gone through the three tense days of balloting that finally led to his selection.

Church Bells Peal

Bells of St. Peter's and of Rome's 500 churches pealed.

A brilliant sun shone over the Italian capital, which was in a festive mood. Throughout the city the posters announcing the death and funeral services for Pope Pius had disappeared. In their places were bright new posters hailing the new pontiff.

There was jubilation in Pope John's native north Italian hamlet, Sotto il Monte, and in Venice at elevation of the jovial, portly patriarch who in the Catholic view becomes the 262nd vicar of Christ on earth and a direct successor of St. Peter.

Bonfires burned Tuesday night and fireworks exploded at Sotto il Monte, a village of 1,733 in the shadow of the Alps, where the

Outlook Dark On West-Red Disarm Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials saw little hope today for any early agreement between the Soviet Union and the Western powers for a start on disarmament in the nuclear age.

They blame the darkening prospect on evidences that the Soviet Union is following a generally tougher line in its relations with the West.

Secretary of State Dulles says this may be due in some degree to a possible realization among Soviet leaders that despite remarkable scientific achievements the Soviet Union is still behind the United States in the nuclear weapons race in important respects.

Two negotiations are imminent. On Friday the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union will open diplomatic talks at Geneva on a possible ban on nuclear weapons testing, to be backed up by a worldwide international inspection system to prevent violations.

Ten days later panels of Communist state and Western experts will start discussions on the technical problems involved in preventing surprise attack — such things as ground and aerial inspection systems which would be capable of discovering concentrations of troops and weapons in advance of a massive assault.

President Eisenhower had proposed last summer th. beginning with the opening of the Geneva nuclear test talks the world's atomic powers — the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union — should suspend tests for a year beginning Oct. 31. If progress on inspection installations was made during that year the suspension would be renewed.

Fire Station Bombed, Juvenile Prank Seen

WALNUT CREEK, Calif. (AP)—A crude bomb made with a lead pipe — tossed through an open window of the Walnut Creek fire station — exploded with damaging effect Tuesday night but all eight occupants of the building escaped injury. Police expressed belief it was the work of juveniles.

Fair Weather Slated Sunday

BALTIMORE (AP)—Five-day forecast: Temperatures will average 3 to 5 degrees below normal with cool weather continuing through the period. Fair Thursday, with rain Saturday and probably beginning late Friday. Generally fair Sunday and Monday. Normal high temperatures are 57 to 62. Lows vary from the 30s west of Frederick to the 40s in other sections.

Five Atomic Shots Slated For One Day

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—Five atomic shots, including a whopper underground blast, were scheduled for today in a speeded-up program to beat the Friday test deadline.

If all go off, it will set a record for nuclear tests in a single day. Three in one day were the most fired previously.

Two of the shots were planned from balloons. Two were scheduled from towers, and the other—the big one—in a tunnel.

The tunnel blast, nicknamed Blanca, was equal to 20,000 tons of TNT—the most powerful underground shot ever detonated at this Atomic Energy Commission test site.

Blanca, rigged in a tunnel 860 feet under a mesa top, was as powerful as the first atomic test set off 13 years ago at Trinity, N.M.

It also had the force of each of the atomic bombs dropped on the Japanese cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki at the end of World War II.

Atomic testers fired an underground shot Tuesday that ejected a plume of dust 1,000 feet or more from the mouth of a tunnel. Aside from the dust, the explosion was unspectacular.

Negro Appeal Given Rebuff By U.S. Judge

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A federal judge today upheld the controversial legislative act which all but eliminated Negro voting in Tuskegee, Ala.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. threw out a complaint filed by a group of Tuskegee Negroes challenging the constitutionality of the 1957 law which rearranged city boundaries of Tuskegee.

The legislative act virtually halted Negro voting in Tuskegee by excluding all predominantly Negro residential areas from the city limits.

As a result, only 10 registered Negro voters were left inside the city in contrast to the 420 who voted there before the act was passed. The 600 white voters in the city were left undisturbed.

The Negroes who challenged the law claimed it deprived them of their rights guaranteed by the federal constitution.

Johnson said that regardless of the motive of the Legislature in enacting the law, "this court has no authority to declare such act invalid after measuring it by any yardstick made known by the Constitution of the United States."

Western Allies Tap Bonn Lines

BONN, Germany (AP) — The government said today the Western Big Three still are tapping private telephone lines in sovereign West Germany.

Postal Minister Richard Stuecklin was asked in Parliament if the Americans were listening in on a private line in the Palatinate State.

Stuecklen said the treaties under which West Germany was granted sovereignty 3½ years ago gave the Allies the authority to tap lines if they thought the interests of their troops were in danger.

Ike To Close GOP Drive In Maryland

To Speak Friday In Baltimore On Radio-TV Hookup

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, back from a three-state campaign tour, will close his drive for election of a Republican Congress with a nationwide television-radio address from Baltimore Friday night.

The President returned to the capital by plane early today after a day and half of tub-thumping for votes in West Virginia, Pennsylvania and New York.

The Baltimore address will climax what generally is regarded as the hardest hitting campaign of Eisenhower's political career.

However, he pitched his politicking on a less harsh note in New York Tuesday. He spoke at two rallies of party workers and urged election of Nelson A. Rockefeller as governor and Rep. Kenneth B. Keating to the U.S. Senate.

Rockefeller joined Keating in telling enthusiastic audiences of GOP workers that they as the ticket leaders were happy Eisenhower came to New York — and that his visit had helped them.

There had been talk that Rockefeller, a former foreign policy aide to Eisenhower, was something less than happy about having the President campaigning in the state.

Rockefeller a few days ago took what seemed to amount to a dim view of Eisenhower's new campaign technique — his attacks on the Democrats as left-wing radicals, as reckless spendthrifts, and as promoters of inflation-breeding schemes.

Shortly after the President's arrival in Manhattan, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty sought to scuttle talk of any discord.

Hagerty tagged as completely false reports that the GOP state organization — and Rockefeller specifically — had urged against Eisenhower's making any major political speech in New York. The press secretary said the Republican National Committee had decided that the President's top campaign address in the East should be in Pittsburgh, where he spoke Monday evening, in his home state of Pennsylvania.

East Enjoys Mild Spell

Generally fair weather prevailed across much of the nation today with rain confined to the lower Great Lakes, New England, parts of the Gulf Coast and sections of the Rockies.

An expanding mound of high pressure brought clear skies to much of the area from the Rockies to the Appalachians and Florida and northward from the Gulf to the Canadian border.

Light rain, mixed with snow in the mountains, occurred during the night from the lower Great Lakes to New England.

Police Quiz Boy, 10, In Woman Shooting

ENGLEWOOD, Colo. (AP)—A 10-year-old boy verbally admitted to police today he shot a 32-year-old housewife when she refused to drop her purse.

Bill Maraggos, chief investigator for the Arapahoe County sheriff's office, identified the boy as Kerry Dale Casey, son of Charles Wade Casey. Maraggos said the boy admitted the shooting after he was brought to the county jail.

Mrs. Shirley Orlofsky was shot in front of her home in this Denver suburb Tuesday evening. She was in fair condition with a small-caliber bullet wound in the left shoulder.

Maraggos said the boy, roused out of a sound sleep, first denied the shooting but later orally admitted it after a .22-caliber revolver, believed used by the boy, and several other guns were found in the basement of the Casey home.

Maraggos quoted the boy as saying "I didn't mean to hurt her." He said he was "doing it like they do on the TV."

No charges were filed.

Mrs. Orlofsky said the boy approached her from across the street wh- she left a bus. "Drop your purse or I'll shoot you," he ordered. "I'm not kidding. I just shot a guy and dropped him."

"I laughed at him at first," Mrs. Orlofsky said.

Mrs. Orlovsky said she jokingly asked the boy where the shooting took place. He jerked his thumb vaguely over his shoulder.

When the blond boy again ordered her to drop the purse, Mrs. Orlofsky said, she turned and walked toward her home. After once pulling the trigger on an apparent misfire, she said, the youngster fired.

Officers said they have found no evidence of any other shooting

Reds' Shelling Of Chiang Isle Gets Sporadic

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Chinese Communist artillery shelled Quemoy again today but there was a noticeable easing of tension over the offshore island crisis.

AP correspondent David Lancashire, on Quemoy, said the Communist artillery fired sporadically through the morning.

Wednesday was an odd-numbered day, meaning unlimited shelling under the Reds' strange announced new tactic. They said they would not fire on even-numbered days into Quemoy's landing areas and invited the Nationalists to ship in supplies then.

There were these signs of a slack in tension:

1. U.S. Navy destroyers of the Formosa Strait patrol have stopped movements inside the 12 miles of coastal waters claimed by Red China, it was learned. For the past two days, Peiping has issued none of its "serious warnings" that its 12-mile limit was being violated.

2. The chief Nationalist military spokesman, Rear Adm. Liu Hoh-tu, said the Communist shelling now was viewed as a nuisance bombardment to save face "because the Communists have known since the second week of their offensive (in September) that their chance to invade Quemoy was gone."

3. U.S. Secretary of State Dulles declared in Washington that Red China seems to be "trying to save themselves from a loss of face and a defeat in the effort which they initiated but had been unable to conclude successfully . . . It seems as though, at least for the moment, they do not want to raise up the level of their military effort . . ."

Nobel Prize Gets Rebuff After Blast

Soviet Pressure Seen Reason For Pasternak Change

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Soviet Author Boris Pasternak today refused to accept the Nobel Prize for Literature. He referred to "the society I live in."

Pasternak sent a cable to Dr. Anders Oesterling, permanent secretary of the Royal Swedish Academy, which awards the literary Nobel prizes.

"Because of the meaning attributed to this award in the society I live in, I ought to say no thanks to the undeserved prize awarded me," Pasternak said. "Do not take my voluntary refusal with any ill will."

Expressed Gratitude

Oestering received a cable from Pasternak Saturday expressing his gratitude at the Nobel award.

That cable read: "Immensely thankful, touched, proud, astonished, abashed."

Today's cable indicated that in the meantime something had happened to Pasternak to change his mind. The author of the novel "Doctor Zhivago", which is critical of communism, has been under rigorous attack in the Soviet press.

Pasternak was named for the award last week. The Soviet press asserted the selection was an anti-Soviet political maneuver.

Pravda, the official Communist party paper, heaped abuse on Pasternak and "Doctor Zhivago." It said he should reject the $41,420 cash prize if there were "a spark of Soviet dignity left in him."

The Nobel Prize Committee presented the Russians with a dilemma. It awarded the Prize in Physics Tuesday to three top-ranking Soviet scientists — P. A. Cherenkov, I. M. Frank and Igor E. Tamm. The question was: would the Soviets let the scientists accept the physics award and at the same time keep Pasternak home?

Appears In Red Press

The answer appeared in the Soviet press in Moscow today. The Russians were setting up a double standard on the Nobel prizes.

It said the physics award was fitting but at the same time it said it proved that the award for literature was dictated by "reactionary political aims."

"Doctor Zhivago" has never been published in the Soviet Union, but it is being widely read abroad.

Americans To Win

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Three Americans at the universities of Wisconsin, Stanford and Oxford probably will win the Nobel medicine prize Thursday for their work in genetics.

The three are Dr. George W. Beadle, formerly of Stanford and now at Oxford, Dr. Edward L. Tatum of Stanford and Joshua L. Lederberg of Wisconsin University.

The award will be made by the Carolina Institute of Surgery and Medicine.

After the medicine prize is announced only the prize for peace will be left. Its winner will be chosen by the Norwegian Nobel committee in Oslo.

Three Russian scientists were selected for the physics prize Tuesday. The award gave the Soviet Union winners in two Nobel categories this year, but the literature prize to Boris Pasternak was heavily criticized by the Communists.

Virus Has Yen For Military Service, Medical Men Find

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A virus that apparently has a yen for military service has created a major mystery for the medicoes.

It's one of the so-called "adenoviruses" — a crew of germs that can cause cold-like illnesses, sometimes pretty severe ones.

The viruses first were discovered several years ago. Since then 23 separate types have been found in humans, including some that cause conjunctivitis, an eye infection.

One of them — called "type 4" — is a real oddball, the American Public Health Assn. was told Tuesday by Dr. Harold S. Ginsberg of Western Reserve University Medical School.

The severe, cold-like infections that it produces are confined almost exclusively "to militarily clothed adults" — and mainly to recruits — Ginsberg related.

The reason for this, he said, "remains a major epidemiological mystery."

Type 4 has somewhat of a rival in Type 7 as a military pest, but the latter is not so exclusively a camp follower.

Ginsberg said tha' while each of the 23 adenoviruses are known or believed to affect civilians at times, only two of them — Types 3 and 8 — are of epidemic significance among civilians.

Pontiff Says He's No Politician

New Pope Jovial Man, Public Morals Defender

VATICAN CITY (AP) — "The quiet after the tempest."

Thus priests of the archdiocese of Venice described Angelo Giuseppe Cardinal Roncalli when he became patriarch of the canal city at the head of the Adriatic.

The portly new pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church — henceforth to be known as Pope John XXIII—is a jovial man, a student of history, and a vigorous defender of public morals. At 76 he begins his reign later in life than any pope in 228 years. But his associates say he has a quick mind, a quick smile, good health and a determined character.

"I was born of poor parents," he told his new flock on his arrival in Venice in 1953. "Providence took me from my native hamlet and led me to travel the roads of the world, from east to west, putting me in contact with most serious social and political problems . . . (but) don't look at your patriarch as a politician or diplomat—look at him as the servant of God."

He often invited his priests to dine at his table. He walked the city's twisted streets and rode the gondolas through its canals, winning the reputation of a tireless worker.

But his tolerance and good humor did not extend to certain facets of life in the pleasure-loving city.

He closed Venice's churches to tourists in shorts, saying, "Italy is not on the Equator, and even there, by the way, lions wear their coats and crocodiles are lined with their most precious hides."

He told the 1957 Venice Film Festival the movie industry must not limit itself to "presenting the decadence of modern customs . . . Moviegoers want to see more beautiful things."

He opposed the moving of the gambling casino from the seaside Lido to the center of the city, calling gambling a "grave disorder in itself, deplorable and to be condemned wherever it may be practised, even if in secret."

Hypnotist Helps To Locate Paper Needed In Chain Deal

CINCINNATI (AP)—Sometimes it even takes hypnotism to run big business.

Executives of the Kroger Co., a large Midwest grocery chain, found this out recently when they tried to complete the purchase of a Dallas, Tex., chain.

A problem cropped up — a stock certificate worth roughly $100,000 was missing.

The paper was essential for Kroger's purchase of the Texas chain.

Jacob Davis, Kroger vice president, told how a hypnotist helped track down the missing paper and save an executive $3,500, to boot:

Jack Evans, vice president of Wyatt Food Stores of Dallas, found he had misplaced the stock certificate, probably three years ago.

Evans, having no luck with his own memory, met hypnotist Franz Polgar near Dallas, and asked him to help.

In a trance, Evans said the certificate was wrapped around his will in a safety deposit box.

A quick check showed this was true.

The sale was completed, and Evans was saved from paying $3,500 for posting an indemnity bond.

13 Men Killed In Blast At West Virginia Mine

By CHARLES R. LEWIS

SUMMERSVILLE, W. Va. (AP)—Thirteen miners, including two top supervisory employes, lost their lives Tuesday in a second straight coal mining disaster. Four others escaped after being trapped underground.

Only the day before, 22 men were killed in an explosion at the Bishop, Va., mine of the Pocahontas Fuel Co. on the Virginia-West Virginia border.

Tuesday's blast centered a mile and a half deep in the Burton mine of the Oglebay-Norton Co., a Cleveland-based mining, marketing, ore and shipping concern between here and Richwood.

Fifty-four men were at work underground, but 37 were working on the surface-side of the explosion and scurried to safety without injury.

The Burton operation is a slope mine, bored into the side of Curtin Mountain. It is located in a barely accessible hollow on the banks of the small Gauley River in Nicholas County.

The first of four men rescued reached the surface on his own feet, leaning on the shoulders of his rescuers, some four hours after the blast. He was Artie Humphreys of Craigsville.

Three others, two of them horribly burned, were brought out on stretchers.

In critical condition were Paul Davis, Craigsville, and William Tucker, Persinger. Less seriously burned was Okey Donaldson, Summersville.

Among the dead were mine Supt. O. C. Gates and Asst. Supt. Eddie Stephenson, both of Craigsville.

The other victims were:

Joe McVey, Owen Wyatt, Kyle Spencer, Henry Westfall and Ralph Adams, all of Craigsville; William Anderson and Harry Fletcher, both of Camden-on-Gauley; Pete Weese of Richwood; Henry Bryant of Summersville; Howard Chaffin of Fenwick, and Donald Davis of LaFrank.

State Mines Director Crawford L. Wilson said all the evidence indicated a gas ignition.

'R-T-W' Laws Given Blast By Mitchell

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Secretary of Labor James Mitchell attacked "right to work" laws Tuesday night as "phony arguments" that "draw their strength from uninformed individuals."

In a number of states, notably California and Ohio, Republicans are staking their campaigns for election Nov. 4 on backing laws to outlaw the union shop.

"This phony argument that laws which prohibit union shops are 'right to work' laws leaves me cold," Mitchell said.

Mitchell noted that the national Republican Party does not back "right to work" legislation, and added he has "always considered the laws as Democratic issues since most of the states that have such laws are controlled by Democrats."

John XXIII

Pope was born the son of a poor farmer Nov. 25, 1881. Three surviving brothers and a sister still live there.

Venice glowed with lights. The city of canals went wild.

As one of the first acts of his pontificate, Pope John elevated Msgr. Alberto di Jorio to the rank of cardinal. Msgr. di Jorio, 74, had served as secretary of the papal conclave, and tradition is that the prelate who fills such duties is named a cardinal at the conclusion.

The College of Cardinals thus remains at its strength of 53 and its Italian representation stays at 17. One of the urgent problems awaiting the new Pope is the naming of new members to the college, which now has 17 vacancies.

The new Pope gave sign that his reign may tend to one of broader cooperation with his top advisers. The Vatican press office announced that he plans to reinstitute the regular or "calendar" audiences with the heads of the Vatican's congregations and other top officials.

Pius XII in recent years had preferred to shoulder many functions personally and had dispensed with these regular audiences. He had called the heads of congregations and departments only when he wished to confer with them.

Congratulations sped to the Vatican from the capitals of the free world. President Eisenhower, Queen Elizabeth II and French Premier de Gaulle were among the first to send their good wishes.

President Eisenhower, in New York on a political visit, messaged that he learned of Pope John's election with great pleasure.

"I join with other Americans in extending my congratulations on your elevation to this high office," he said. "My best wishes for the success of your endeavors are, I am certain, shared by men of good will everywhere."

Business Pickup Better Than Usual This Autumn

WASHINGTON (AP)—Although some phases of the recession still linger, the Commerce Department says business has fared better than usual this autumn.

In its monthly survey of the business situation, the department said Tuesday that various economic indicators show the business recovery now is rather broad.

There were a few dark spots, however. The report gave this summary:

"The recovery in employment has been rather limited; investment in industrial and commercial facilities, although leveling off, is not yet advancing, and auto production still has not given the stimulus which will come with large scale output of 1959 cars." But except for autos, the department said industrial production has shown a marked comeback.

The better-than-seasonal pickup, the report said, has been reflected in rising personal income which climbed by 1½ billion dollars last month to a record rate of 357½ billions a year. Most of the increase was credited to bigger wage and salary payments.

Meanwhile, the Internal Revenue Service reported that despite the recession federal tax collections during the fiscal year that ended June 30 fell only 200 million dollars below the previous year.

That figure is somewhat misleading, however, because the major impact of the recession on corporation taxes falls during the current fiscal year. The service said the tax total for fiscal 1958 reflected increased Social Security tax rates which went into effect in January 1957.

Altogether, the federal tax take for fiscal 1958 came to $79,978,000,000, second only to the record $80,172,000,000 of fiscal 1957.

Her warning may have been designed to protect the market for a more or less official account now being revised by her mother.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — There was a Christmas party at a hospital here Tuesday, but no one except the guest of honor enjoyed it very much.

About two dozen friends, relatives and nurses crowded into the room of Eva Munoz, 13. They gave her presents, decorated a Christmas tree and ate ice cream and cake.

Eva was happy, but a little suspicious. She was tired when the guests had left. Her parents sat quietly during the party.

Doctors say the dark-eyed eighth-grader will never see the real holiday.

She has cancer.

Democratic "Old Pro" And Republican Newcomer Struggle For Governorship Of Pennsylvania

By N. L. BRAUN
United Press International

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Pennsylvania Democrats, seeking to elect a second senator and retain the governorship, evidenced confidence today in the wake of declining Republican registration in a once-traditionally GOP stronghold.

Making the political pot boil was a study in contrasts — a Democratic "old pro" and a Republican newcomer fighting for the Executive Mansion, and a rural-bred governor and urbane congressman battling for the Senate.

The gubernatorial race pits Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh, the "Mr. Democrat of Pennsylvania," against Republican Arthur T. McGonigle, a Reading pretzel manufacturer who never has held public office.

In the close senatorial race, Gov. George M. Leader is battling Rep. Hugh Scott of Philadelphia, who is riding on one of the Republican Party's most liberal state platforms.

Democratic Party leaders base their optimism on the steady decline of the heretofore overwhelming edge in Pennsylvania Republican registration.

Only four years ago, the Republican registration lead was nearly one million. Today it has dwindled to 218,432.

Since the May primaries, Democratic registration has increased by 102,142 to bring the number of registrants to 2,553,556. The Republicans gained 53,809 in registration to a total of 2,771,988.

And despite the big bulge enjoyed by the GOP four years ago, Leader was elected by a 280,000-vote margin.

In addition to the senatorial and gubernatorial contests, Pennsylvanians will send 30 members to Congress and elect a Lieutenant governor, secretary of internal affairs and a state Supreme Court judge.

Aside from the Republican registration decline, Democrats feel confident because of a tight and militant state organization, the mending of intra-party fences following a breach in the primaries, and the record of Gov. Leader.

Lawrence A Vote Getter

In Lawrence, the Democrats have a proven vote getter, the only man to be elected mayor of Pittsburgh for four consecutive terms. Lawrence, who would be one of the oldest Pennsylvania governors at 69, is no stranger to state office, having served as secretary of the commonwealth in the 30s.

He is Democratic National committeeman for Pennsylvania and considered the prime mover in Pittsburgh's renaissance. Lawrence was a member of the original group which carried on a determined fight to win Harry S. Truman, then a Missouri senator, the nomination for vice president when Roosevelt captured his fourth term.

McGonigle, a successful businessman who has been stumping Pennsylvania's 67 counties with vigor, has promised a "business-man's approach" and a "business like" administration if elected.

Leader Stands On Record

Head of one of the nation's largest pretzel factories — a concern he took over during the depression — he has been attacked by the Democrats as the hand-picked candidate of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association, for years a key voice in state Republican politics.

Leader, also a political unknown four years ago, is standing on the record of his administration, which stressed rapid improvements in the fields of labor, education and social welfare. He is seeking the seat being vacated by Sen. Edward Martin, a Republican.

Inflation Stubborn

FRESH REPORTS on the economy indicate that we have now recovered nearly three-fourths of the ground lost in the sharp 1957-58 recession. As economists and business specialists are again pointing out, this decline was one of the steepest plunges in our history. But the really striking thing is that the upward climb seems to be even steeper and faster. When recovery begins, the experts have to rub their eyes to make sure the signs are real. That time, however, is long since past in this particular swing of the cycle. The fact is, according to the customary economic guideposts, that the current advance is virtually without comparison in U.S. history.

OUR SO-CALLED gross national product—sum of all goods and services turned out in a year — is now at an annual rate of 450 billion dollars. It leaped 11 billions in the past three months and is expected to rise another 10 billions by Jan. 1. This means that from the pit of the recession in April to January, 1959, we will have built our producing economy back to a level 10 billion dollars higher than the 1957 peak, 25 billion above booming 1955, and 68 billion above 1952. Even after allowing for inflation and population growth, this plainly represents an astonishing comeback.

UNEMPLOYMENT still is high in some parts of the country. The growth of the potential labor force means we have to employ more people than ever before to pull the unemployed total down. Nevertheless, the speed of the upswing seems to reflect a basically remarkable economic health in the United States. Buyers kept on buying at a substantial pace even in the worst period. And now are shelling out on a heavier and heavier basis. For all the cutbacks it made, business still kept on improving and expanding its plant at the high pace of some 30 billion dollars a year. The administration refused to panic and did not resort to extreme recovery devices like heavy public works which now might prove an inflationary embarrassment. The deflation of business is ending. But it never did bring a deflation of prices. So, once again, as so often since World War II, it is inflation we must worry about. It has shown itself much more stubborn than recession.

Living Language

IT DEVELOPS that a certain dictionary publishing firm has a big staff with a lot of electronic gadgets keeping track of how people use words. Every day these workers come down to the office and pour over current printed material, punching cards on whether it's being spelled "ie" or "ei." If a variation appears enough times the dictionary is changed. Now this seems something like college freshmen pecking at each other's papers while taking an exam. Or two guys who have been lucky all their lives to have knife-fork-spoon at their places covertly watching each other at a banquet to see which piece of silver to use on the kumquats. If the first grade gets hold of this counterspying it will be able to justify its spelling of rat as "ratt" even more eloquently than it does right now. And this is to say nothing of secretaries. But at that, on the way to the dictionary to look up the word "squamous" it is a rather heady feeling to know that an IBM machine somewhere is going to jiggle when we spell it "squamus."

China Policy Feels Pre-Election Strain

WASHINGTON — As usual, the election is interfering with all the normal processes of government, the most conspicuous example being United States policy toward the two Chinas.

By the most strenuous exertions Secretary of State Dulles has managed to darken the whole sceen so that no one today can say he knows for sure what the language of the Dulles-Chiang communique was intended to conceal. Dulles' own fervent hope must be that no rocket's red glare shall re-illuminate the perils of the difficulty area.

This conclusion is inherent in the communique's lack of clarity. It is obvious that the secretary did not wish either to re-state the former position, which carried with it widespread fear of war over the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu, or to set forth a new position which would hint at yielding to Democratic criticisms.

DISPATCHES from Chiang's capital say he is unhappy, which is evidence in itself of some alteration in the position. If the election turns out as now forecast, that alteration will become fact with a speed much more than deliberate, for then a Senate Foreign Relations Committee even more heavily weighted in favor of a new look at China will soon call the secretary to account.

The greatest danger to the Dulles strategy remains Red China, which has the initiative in the Formosa Straits. Dulles also has to fear Republicans who may be tempted to raise the cry that the uneasy stalemate is peace. If they desist, it is probable that Democrats will remain content to let the issue work for them rather than run the risk of provoking war fears which might operate in an unexpected manner.

THE NEXT most pressing problem on which the Administration has slammed the dor is taxes. The size of the budget deficit insures that touchy subject—an early priority in Administration planning for next year. At midsummer the deficit was estimated at $12 billions; this figure has been somewhat reduced by a pick-up in business, but not sensationally.

Incautiously Secretary of Commerce Weeks, a sincere conservative, not only voiced his apprehensions about this but suggested a national sales tax. Weeks had been intending to leave Washington; the parting guest has now been sped on his way with great celerity and the controversial Lewis L. Strauss named to succeed him. Strauss has had his troubles managing the atom to the satisfaction of Congress, but his business eminence is indisputable.

REPUBLICANS can be sure that he will take an orthodox view on government financing. To what extent he will share the job of fighting for the Administration position with the more popular Treasury Secretary, Robert Anderson, remains to be seen.

The new Commerce Secretary will find on the Senate Finance Committee not only his old atomic antagonist, Senator Clinton Anderson of New Mexico, but the most formidable Democratic controversialist of all, oilman Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma. Connoisseurs of Senate hearings have already marked on their future books the confrontation of Strauss and Kerr when it occurs, as it surely will.

Waste? It All Depends On Where You Sit

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Senator Paul H. Douglas, one of the leading battlers for economy in government, has issued a strong denial of Republican campaign claims that the last session of Congress appropriated money wastefully.

Senator Douglas points to figures compiled by congressional appropriation committees to prove his case.

They aren't the same as Budget Bureau figures, which are based not on "appropriations" but on "new obligational authority" and actual "expenditures" for the fiscal year.

It's almost impossible to reconcile the two bookkeeping systems. But this is Douglas's case, so his figures have to be used.

Congressional accounting shows that President Eisenhower last January requested government appropriations of 73.3 billion dollars. Congress appropriated 72.6 billion. Congress therefore cut the President's request by 619 million, a little over one per cent.

DURING the first session of the 85th Congress, the President's January, 1957, request for 64.6 billion dollars was cut to 59.6. This was a saving of five billion. The total cuts of the Democratic-controlled 85th Congress for the two-year session were thus 5.6 billion.

These figures would seem to refute effectively the Republican charges that the 85th Congress was a spendthrift. But Democratic spokesmen failed to use them as a campaign argument until Senator Douglas pointed them out.

While technically correct as far as they go, the Douglas figures do not tell the whole story on what appropriations will be for the full fiscal year, ending June 30.

For the 72.6 billion dollars which Congress appropriated before adjournment in August does not include supplementary appropriations which Congress will have to approve when it returns to town in January.

THE AMOUNT of these supplementary appropriations can't be accurately forecast at this time. Budget Bureau's Mid-Year Review indicated that supplementary appropriations totaling an estimated 3.3 billion dollars will be proposed.

More money will be needed for congressionally authorized programs for which insufficient funds were appropriated to carry out aid to education, college housing, the new food additives regulation law, urban renewal, federal pay increases, the Development Loan Fund, and others.

When the next Congress gets through with these little chores, total appropriations for this fiscal year will be at least 76 billion dollars, probably more. This will be three to four billion more than President Eisenhower requested last January. It will cut quite a chunk out of the 5.6 billion savings credited to 85th Congress economizing.

By budget Bureau bookkeeping the 85th Congress first session cut administration requests — including supplementals — by only 500 million dollars for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1958.

FOR THE current year ending June 30, 1959, Congress will be credited with cuts of 600 million —if it approves the 3.3 billion dollars supplemental requests to be made next January.

This would give the 85th Congress a record of 1.1 billion dollars in economies for the two-year session, instead of the 5.6 billion cuts reported by Senator Douglass. But it does not prove Congress was spendthrift.

By Budget Bureau bookkeeping methods, new obligational authority will rise to an estimated 76.9 billion dollars this year, while expenditure will be 79.2 billion. This will mean a deficit of 12.7 billion.

Senator Douglas points out, however, that this deficit will be caused by congressional appropriations.

Only 5.3 billion dollars, or 40 per cent, of the deficit will be caused by increased spending. The other 7.4 billion, or 60 per cent, is caused by the decline in tax collections due to the recession.

So They Say

Rose and pink colors are the sign of a woman-dominated home. The man may resign himself to the colors, but deep down inside he's simmering all the time. . . . The frustration probably will explode in another area of family matters altogether. But it'll be the pink which really is bothering him.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK — It is a little early to alert you to Christmas, but because you may be stuck in the next several weeks for ideas I thought it would be helpful to tell you a few of the little knickknacks showing up in New York shops. Who knows, you might find in this bare listing just what you have been looking for.

A JEWELER of renown has a charming little bedside clock in a solid gold case with gold hands and figures and authentic jewels scattered over it like stardust in a moonbeam's path. I am sure you would want your wife to have this as a token of your affection and it can be yours and consequently hers for a modest $7,875.00.

If you find this a little more expensive than you had planned, I can get you one almost like it, with fewer strews of gems, for $4,500, but of course your friends will immediately recognize that you tried to pinch pennies and save something like $3,000. If you can face their silent opinion, without flinching, then the lesser item may be just the thing.

IF YOUR wife is bewildered by what to get you, put a ring around this paragraph with a pencil and drop the paper where she will be likely to see it.

I suggest a ruffled evening shirt, with true handmade lace ruffles, for $280. If you think this is a little tight of her after you went for $4,500 for her, remember she can always get you half a dozen such shirts, gift boxed.

And if you still are a money-counter and think she is giving you the short end of things, remember there are few things a woman can buy a man for $4,500 except, posibly, a Jaguar, and, of course, you have one of those. What man hasn't these days?

You really want to know? This man, this man writing this, hasn't, nor is he likely to have. His bride is more the DKW type of gift-giver.

IF YOUR wife loves jewels, let me suggest a modest, clean-cut, unobtrusive little necklace of diamonds I saw the other day in a window. It was $25,000, plus Federal tax, and as becoming an item of small jewelry as I've run across in years. It isn't an important piece, of course, but every woman ought to have one or two small items like this in her jewel chest just for light, informal occasions. Something to throw around her neck for skiing or sailing, a sort of sports jewel.

IF YOU LIVE in a cold climate, the windows are filled with attractive little items like electric sheets, blankets, pillow cases, doubly-wired for radio at night, even an electric mattress. In addition, there are wired pajamas and nightgowns.

No man or woman need feel chilled if thus equipped, and some of the shared items, like sheets and blankets, come with dual controls, so that each occupant of a double bed can arrive at a sleeping temperature best suited to the individual.

Naturally, if anything goes wrong with all this equipment you might well end up grilled in a vast network of crossed wires, but the chances are remote.

THERE IS a sort of jewel rash going on this season and I even have seen sleeping boards, those plywood things that go between mattress and box spring to firm the bed up for better sleeping, with the edges rhinestone-studded. If you became impatient, they probably would use real diamonds for you.

In the fur department, I like mink breakfast jackets at $900 to $1,400, depending on the mutation; mink fly swatters and gents' belts, sable egg-warmers and charming, inventive little household articles like that. There are even mink scuffies for walking around bare floors on cool mornings.

Naturally, the articles in mink do not come cheaply. But this isn't going to be a cheap Christmas, you can depend on that.

IF YOU ARE going to have to pay through the nose, pay handsomely, and one handsome way to do it is to buy a Continental Mark III for your girl, at around $7,000 or so, and then put mink or sable floor carpets in it, discarding those factory-made woolen carpets that come with the car.

If you order now, I think, I can see to it that you will get full mink upholstery to match in time for Christmas. But you'll have to act today, right now. The price is around $8,700 for upholstery and front and rear floor mats in registered mink. Call it $10,000 for Blush O'Dawn mutation.

There will be one or two further reports between now and Christmas, but this will get you off to a modest little start.

Roast Beef And Torpedoes

WASHINGTON — Two of my old Hollywood friends, actor Glenn Ford and producer Edmund Grainger came through town with a new movie they said was news. They also said there'd be a feed.

There sure was. All the admirals were there with gold stripes and their ladies in evening gowns. My Hilda was present, looking pretty, and I put a fresh drop of ink in the hole of the lapel of my tuxedo, and showed up looking well-dressed, too.

SO WE ALL lapped up the movie people's roast beef de luxe and felt sorry (but not too sorry) for the stockholders of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, who footed the bill. Then we marched over to the Capitol Theater, where spotlights speared the sky, the Navy band tooted, and a whole slew of sailors stood at attention in the lobby while we stalked in. I had a ticket and nobody even asked for it.

This picture was entitled "Torpedo Run," and Ford was the captain of a submarine; a first-class movie it was, too. Ford and Grainger said it made history. This I do not doubt.

SINCE THE beginning of the cinema, they said, Hollywood has been making movies about soldiers, sailors, marin :, and airmen, and all with the same plot.

Two gents invariably got in an hour-and-20-minute argument about one pretty girl, and after adventures designed to scare the audience, the hero always won her. Or so said Ford and Grainger.

THEIR picture, they added, was different. Submariner Ford already was married and he had a girl child when the film opened. Then he had to go to the Orient and torpedo a Japanese carrier.

Those wily Japs ran in front of their flattop a prison ship bearing Americans, including the captain's wife and daughter. His ship and Capt. Ford never did learn whether he'd killed his own family. Neither did the audience. And I swear it was a gripping situation; it even kept the admirals in the mezzanine on the edges of their seats.

WHEN I KNEW Ford in the old days he was a nice young fellow, who spent most of his time hungry, between engagements. In the last few years he's caught on and now it's not so easy to find a big-time film in which he's not involved.

He's a modest gent. He said he had no idea how his services suddenly came in demand. He's eating regularly now and lately he's been making movies on location all over the world. What's surprised him is how folks in far places recognize him and hang on to his every word as if it were gospel.

This has caused him to believe that maybe the State Department should deputize far-flying actors to tell the people around the world a little about our country and its philosophy.

I'M NOT THE one to decry true love, but I had to tell Ford I still was unhappy about his wife marrying him and retiring from the screen. She's Eleanor Powell and I used to enjoy watching her dance across the silver sheet. Miss Powell, in addition, was a pleasure to know.

Well do I remember the time she gave me a rumba lesson. I didn't learn much, according to my Hilda, but it was fun while it lasted. Ford said Miss Powell really hadn't retired, but just changed businesses. She's about to open a chain of dance studios and if the boss will give me her personal attention, I'll take up the rumba again.

Reporter's Notebook

By HAL R. COOPER
(For Hal Boyle)

LONDON—It is the day of the season's biggest international soccer game, between England and the Soviet Union.

The typical British fan, who digs ditches for the Borough Council, has no ticket. If he is going to go, he will have to get one from a scalper at Wembley Stadium.

The fan has assured himself he can afford neither a ticket nor the loss of a day's work. He will not go.

But shortly after noon he crams himself into a subway train along with hundreds of his peers, Wembly bound.

Along the parade way leading from the subway station to the stadium a religious organization has posted several signs. They read, in order: "Sin Is a Reproach to Any People," "All Have Sinned," "The Coming of the Lord Draweth Nigh" and "Prepare To Meet Thy God."

BY THE TIME he gets to the stadium the fan is in starting condition for a disaster.

He approaches a ticket scalper who demands 10 shillings — $1.40 — for a three-shilling sixpence—50 cents—ticket to standing room in Section D, far behind one of the goals.

The fan ripostes with an offer of seven shillings sixpence—$1.05—which is refused with hauteur. The fan forks over 10 shillings and wends his way to Section D.

By game time the concrete terraces of Section D are so crammed with people the fan would be unable to fall down if he fainted. He is screened from the playing field by a phalanx of men seven feet tall.

From time to time there is a roar from the crowd. The fan assumes something is happening but is unable to confirm it visually. At halftime a kindly policeman informs everybody England is leading 1 to 0.

The fan badly needs a drink. He is afraid to go down to the bar for fear he would be unable to wedge himself back into Section D. The queue would be too long for him to get waited on anyway. Besides, all the money he has left is his car fare home.

AS THE GAME proceeds the cold creeps up from the cement through the fan's shoes all the way to his knees. He feels awful. He would leave early and avoid the crowd, but he knows he will never make it through the massed bodies.

After an eon the final whistle blows. The fan is extruded through the exit like toothpaste from a tube. He waits on the chilly subway platform nearly an hour before he can push into a train.

Tottering with fatigue he reaches home and turns on the radio. He learns that England has won, 5 to 0.

He will have to do without beer or cigarettes until payday.

He feels wonderful. He has been present, with 99,000 others, when England avenged the defeat which knocked them out of the world soccer cup in Stockholm last summer.

NEW YORK—"You ask me. I say these modern chemical confoundments — lipsticks, whiskey and tranquillizers — are putting Americans on the fritz.

"People walk round looking false and feeling false. They make life too easy. You understand, any thing too easy is no good."

Irving Morse, proprietor of an 107-year-old pharmacy named Kiehl's, suddenly thrust forth a large tin can marked "Sevren." The active ingredients therein were scullcap, lady slipper, wind flower, celery, rosemary, anise, hops, buckthorn, rue, mate and domiana.

"This does the job of whiskey and tranquillizers," he said. "For lip color, let the ladies eat raspberries."

MORSE, a Russian-American who came to New York in 1908, has a clientele for his medicinal and cosmetic herbs that includes some of the country's most famous names.

Gloria Swanson visits him regularly for Iceland moss, a vitalizing tonic, and rosemary, an eternal stimulant, internal calming agent and tasty cooking ingredient. An international playboy mail-orders red clover for ulcers, corns.

Unnumbered teen-agers come in for cleavers—a compound of goose-grass, clabbergrass, poor robbin, scratch weed and bed-straw — which is a wash to remove freckles.

And as many as a dozen persons a week, most of them immigrants from Europe, visit Morse for "leeching."

Among his best customers is a Wall Street tycoon who buys pipsessewa "to give him extra sensory perception in his dealings."

Pulling a large jar of leeches from his refrigerator, the pharmacist told a story which explains why he entered this business.

When he was a child in Russia, in 1900, his brother was severely injured in a sled accident. He developed a blood clot on his brain. The doctors said nothing would help him.

"Then a medicine man came to town. He put 25 leeches on my brother's neck. They broke up the blood clot. You may not believe it, but I saw it. I tell you, these awful-looking little monsters saved my brother's life."

The Kiehl pharmacy is a dark little shop, at 105 Third Avenue, with a pealing ceiling and a stock room heavy with hundreds of cans labeled with such unlikely names as "motherwort," "eye bright," "agar agar," "virgin's bower," "wahoo," "mouse ear."

IN SHOE BOXES are such relatively new inventions as aspirin, sleeping pills and seltzer. To which Morse refers as "ready-made" devices. He still prefers to mix his ancient herbs and powders, from a prescription book dating back to the 19th century, in a small iron capsule-press that is twice as old as he is.

"And I am 65, my dear."

Nourished on a mixture of linden flowers, mate, a little peppermint and tea, he looks half that.

Getting back to the subject of cosmetics for women, Morse refers to it as "a new, unhealthy trend. I can't fight vanity, however," he says.

"There is no herb I have found to induce modesty."

"Blue Law" Violations End In Fines

Second Offense Will Bring Much Stricter Penalty

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Twelve persons were fined $5 each yesterday for violation of the state's "Blue Law."

Circuit Judge Benjamin Michaelson found the defendants had been involved in the sale of restricted merchandise on Sunday. He imposed light fines but warned that second offenders would be treated more severely.

Another defendant was found innocent after it was testified that he had been mistakenly identified as the manager of a Harundale supermarket.

Seven of the defendants, who were tried together, are employes at a new variety store on Ritchie Highway at Glen Burnie. The other five, tried in a group, are connected with food stores in Harundale and Brooklyn Park.

A half dozen Anne Arundel County policeman testified they purchased restricted items from the defendants on Sunday, Sept. 28.

Restricted purchases offered in evidence included a looseleaf notebook, a toy submarine, a stapler, floor wax and several food items.

Judge Michaelson said it was a "painful duty" to impose any fines because he felt the defendants were "respectable businessmen and victims of the enforcement of a law heretofore lightly regarded." The charges grew out of a recent police crackdowns in Northern Anne Arundel County under a law which prohibits the sale of certain merchandise on Sunday.

The law prohibits the Sunday sale, barter or giving away of any merchandise except tobacco products, milk and milk products, bread, candy and confections, fruit gasoline, oil, grease, soft drinks, drugs, medicines, newspapers and magazines.

Chairman Say Some Veterans Oppose Bonus

CHEVERLY, Md. (AP) — The chairman of a special Maryland legislative committee investigating veterans affairs said last night suburban Washington veterans seem to oppose a bonus while outstate veterans favor it.

The chairman, Weldon L. Maddox, past state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, was conducting the fifth of six public hearings around the state on veterans problems.

The hearing, in the Cheverly American Legion Hall, was attended by about 35 veterans representatives from Prince Georges County.

Most speakers attacked the present State Veterans Commission as being out of touch with the people it is supposed to serve. They talked against a bonus and for enlargment of veterans welfare funds for the disabled and destitute.

Earl Wright, Southern Maryland district rehabilitation chairman for the American Legion, led the call for a full-time service officer in the Washington area of Maryland to attend to the needs of veterans.

Maddox and other members of the committee explained that any bonus would require a statewide referendum which would specify the method of providing funds—estimated at 100 million dollars.

Ray R. Burke, also representing the American Legion, said the main need of veterans is "quick, direct action." He said "let's wait for better times to put a bonus over."

Earl Griffin, past state commander of the VFW, said the State Veterans Commission ought to be expanded to include the state commanders of each veterans organization.

The committee will end its hearings in Havre de Grace and then report its findings to the Legislature.

Big Hagerstown Parade On Saturday

By GEORGE RASH
Daily Mail Staff Writer

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — The 34th annual Alsatia Mummers' parade, of the biggest in the state, will be held Saturday night with at least 60,000 spectators expected.

Sponsored by the Alsatia Club, a Hagerstown men's social club, the parade will draw about 5,000 participants from the tri-state area, according to general chairman Raymond E. Dinterman.

Coming almost on the eve of the November 4 election, the attraction of the parade is saddening in some respects to candidates for public office.

No political banners, slogans, or anything having the slighest tinge of politics will be permitted, nor has it ever been permitted, Dinterman said.

Almost $5000 in cash prizes are being offered to entries in the various divisions.

Dozens of bands and drum and bugle corps and many floats will appear in the two-mile line of march which passes through Hagerstown's Public Square. Grandstands will be erected in all four corners.

There will be many entries from public schools in the county in the form of marching bodies.

The parade was started 34 years ago by the Alsatia Club in an effort to break up Hallowee'n vandalism by children.

Through the years it has become more elaborate with participants coming from three states to vie for prizes and honors.

The parade as usual will create a monstrous traffic jam during the two-hour march with all east-west Rt. 40 traffic rerouted to side streets as a two mile section of the city is blocked from north to south.

Money for the prizes is raised by soliciting Hagerstown business houses and the sale of tickets to the grandstands.

Miss Mary Klick, a former Hagerstown girl, now a star of the Jimmy Dean Town and Country TV show, will be Queen of the Mummers.

Another guest of honor to ride at the head of the parade will be Bob Turley, New York Yankee pitcher.

The rain date is November 3.

Chairman Dinterman hopes it doesn't rain. If it rains there won't be much of a parade—even on Monday.

But in all the 34 parades it has never rained enough to cancel one.

THE LAMP IN THE WINDOW

Symbolic of the earlier days of American pharmacy was the lighted lamp in the drugstore window. All through the night it glowed, a beacon of hope, a symbol of unselfish service.

Although the historic lamp is now practically extinct, the fundamentals of pharmaceutical practice have changed but little. The responsibilities of the pharmacist are greater today than ever before — he is a vital factor in medical care.

Hearing Set Today In Mine Blast Tragedy

Dynamite Charge Ignited Gas, Says Inspection Team

BISHOP, Va. (UPI)—A formal hearing was scheduled today by federal and state mine officials investigating the cause of an explosion Monday which claimed the lives of 22 men at the Pocahontas Fuel Co. coal mine near here.

A company official said Tuesday the blast apparently was touched off by an explosive charge designed to dislodge coal from the mine section's face.

The official, who accompanied an inspection team surveying the tragic blast site, said the explosive, containing a percentage of dynamite, ignited gas in the mine pocket and killed the miners.

"There wasn't any machinery operating in the mine," he said, "and there is no other way it could have happened."

The officials were also expected to hear a more detailed report on the investigators' findings at today's hearing.

Typewriter Can Operate At Top Speed

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Army displayed Tuesday a teletypewriter that can operate, in theory, at the rate of a half million words per minute.

Actually, the electronic device was shown running at a speed of 3,000 words a minute — 20 times as fast as most people can talk. The Army intends to use it at 750 words a minute.

The 500,000 words per minute peed would be the equivalent of typing the King James Version of the Bible (774,746 words) in a minute and a half.

The mechanism will go that fast or faster, but what baffles the experts is how to pass the roll of paper past the printing anvil fast enough. The specification for the machine was prepared by the Signal Corps and it was built by the Burroughs Corp.

Dance Scheduled By Marine Unit

Navy Spikes Rumor On Closing Of Bainbridge

BAINBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—The Navy has spiked a report that the Bainbridge Naval Training Station would be shut down after the first of the year.

The report had been carried in the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot. The newspaper had indicated some of the technical training schools at Bainbridge would be transferred to Norfolk.

Capt. O. G. Kirk, USN, commanding officer at Bainbridge, said yesterday he received word from Vice Adm. H. P. Smith in Washington that there were no plans at present to close down or decrease activities at the Maryland base. Smith is chief of the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

Activities at the base were curtailed in the summer of 1957 when the training center for male recruits was closed down. At that time the etation's military population dropped from 14,500 to 4,500.

Bainbridge is in the Fifth Naval District which has headquarters at Norfolk. The base is located on 1,100 acres adjacent to the Susquehanna River.

A spokesman at Bainbridge said Kirk has ordered notices distributed to assure 400 civilians at the base that the station will remain open.

The station has several technical schools for training in such subjects as radio, electronics, fire control and radar. There is also a WAVE recruit training program and a naval preparatory school.

Peacemaker Enters Mental Study Field

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—A peacemaker has entered the scientific arena where "organicists" and "psycho-dynamicists" do wordy battle over the largely unknown causes of mental diseases, saying (in effect): You're both right—as far as you go. Get your ideas together and you'll both be entirely right.

"Organicists" argue all mental diseases have to be caused by disturbances in the chemistry or structure (or both) of the organ of the mind which is the brain. "Psycho-dynamicists" argue the mind stores conflicts and undigested fears and frustrations and these influence its workings and collide in such ways as to cause mental diseases. If either could prove his case, there would be no argument, naturally.

Dr. Otto F. Ehrentheil, the would-be peacemaker, offered this argument: Disturbances in brain chemistry and-or structure make insanity possible. The stored conflicts and undigested fears and frustrations determine the direction and the manifestations of the insanity. He reasoned there could be no active mental disease such as schizophrenia, without both processes working.

Major Category

This should be accepted by both sides, he continued, "even in cases where it is impossible to demonstrate a structural and-or chemical disturbance. These cases make up the majority of patients in mental hospitals. Indeed, after-death examinations of the brains of extremely insane persons consistently fail to reveal any physical disturbance. "Psycho-dynamicists" point to this as a strong indication (if not proof) that they're right. "Organicists" say it only shows science has a lot to learn about the brain.

Ehrentheil said no one should disagree with this: "Thinking, listening, seeing, talking, feeling are all biological processes taking place in the brain." And there can be no "biological process" without changes in body chemistry and in "electricity and in structure of cells and tissues." There is a difference, to be sure, between an arm paralyzed because of a nerve injury and an arm paralyzed because the mind of its owner is gripped by hysteria. But the hysteria has brought about the physical disturbances of structure and-or chemistry which paralyze the arm.

Example Cited

To illustrate, he cited a patient of his who was in his late 50s before he broke down with mental disease. This man had suffered all his life from a congenital under-development which prevented him from glorying in the mere status of being male. But he lived a normal life until hardening of the arteries of the brain brought about marked disturbances in its chemistry and structure.

Ehrentheil said that if this physical change had been the only factor, the man would probably have deteriorated into a "vegetable," which can happen in persons with hardened brain arteries. But this man had hallucinations — he was utterly detached from reality. The significant thing was the direction of the hallucinations. He believed that Superman came for him every night and together they soared over the earth.

Ehrentheil is a member of the staff at the Veterans Administration Hospital, Bedford, Mass., and of Tufts University School of Medicine. He presented his reconciling views of mental disease scientists through the American Psychiatric Association.

The rally is being arranged by Forrest Mowbray. Refreshments will be served.

At a rally in Corriganville last night, Del. Thomas N. Berry, Cumberland attorney seeking election to the House of Delegates, spoke in behalf of the six GOP candidates for the Allegany County delegation, saying that the "all-Republican delegation to the General Assembly from Allegany County is a well-balanced team representing every section of the county." He said the Democratic candidates seem to be running individual campaigns instead of gaining party support.

Sen. See spoke in behalf of Sheriff Muir, noting the many commendations received by the Republican sheriff from Allegany County grand juries, and urging his re-election.

Lee Barnett, Cumberland attorney, then briefed the audience on the backgrounds of the various state-wide candidates, pointing out James S. Devereux's "forthright stand on issues" in his campaign for the governorship, and mentioning editorials in various papers backing the Republican slate.

The invocation was given by Delegate Fred B. Driscoll, with group singing led by Miss Margaret Jones, accompanied by Mrs. Glen Ringler on the piano. Delegate Lester B. Reed, master of ceremonies, introduced the state central committee and unopposed GOP candidates. Green also spoke.

The rally closed with a solo by Delegate Williams. Arrangements were made by Mrs. Lester Reed, Harry Walters and William E. Orr.

At the meeting each year, gifts are accepted to be distributed at Christmas time to Mooseheart and Moosehaven residents. Packages were placed under a lighted Christmas tree. Other decorations carried out the Yuletide motif with the use of pine, holly and lighted candles on the table. Familiar holiday music was played during the serving of refreshments, which were also in keeping with the theme of the evening's program.

Mrs. Mamie Folk, chairman of the Mooseheart committee, was in charge of the event. She was assisted by Mesdames Norma Pearce, Lillian Miller, Pauline West, Nedra Walsh and Leona Sanders.

Mrs. Edith Wertman entertained with three monologues, "Beatitudes for Children," "Jes 'Fore Christmas" and "A Christmas Prayer." Miss Louise Wertman gave a reading entitled "A Christmas Sermon."

During the open meeting Mrs. Wanda Markle was initiated as a new member and Mrs. June Shobe, chairman of the library committee, announced plans for a food sale to be held Saturday at the G. C. Murphy Company store

Funds From Town Building Sale Invested In U. S. Bonds

PIEDMONT — Money from the sale of the building located on Ashfield, Third and Green Streets to Abe Feldstein of Cumberland for $14,427 will be invested in United States H Bonds.

Since the sale of the building, the money has been deposited in the First National Bank without interest and it is to be used for building or purchasing a new town structure.

Feldstein remodeled the building and has made an apartment house out of it. The first floor is used for business places and the three upper floors for apartments.

Containers for the placing of parking tickets and money for violations are proving a sound investment, according to Mayor Rodney Baker. The town is receiving an increase in receipts for violations.

Motorists like the idea as it is more handy to pay parking violations.

Clifton S. Brooks was granted a permit to build a one story frame house with concrete block foundation on West Erin Street.

It was decided to have the office of the present town building laid with tile and the walls repainted. Ormond Ledlow, town clerk, was authorized to seek an estimate for covering the floor with tile. The mayor stated it was necessary "to protect our investment."

A complaint about dirty water has been received on East Hampshire Street, Councilman James Bissett reported. It was decided to make a check in that area to find a solution to the problem.

The clerk's office will continues to be closed on Saturdays.

MEYERSDALE—A 15-year-old area youth was killed last Friday when the wall of a barn gutted by fire collapsed at the Blue Mountain Academy near Hamburg. Two other persons were injured.

Dead is Terry Stairs, son of Earl and Minnie (Lowry) Stairs.

The youth was a sophomore at the academy operated on a 780-acre farm by the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

Stairs was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. John M. Bear who said the victim suffered a fractured skull and broken left leg.

Injured were Ernest Conibear, 52, academy employe, and his son James, 20, a student. Conibear suffered bruises. His son was treated for cuts of the foot and released from Reading Hospital in Berks County.

Fire that started in an adjoining automotive shop ignited the barn.

Stairs was born September 24, 1943, in Somerset County. He had been working on the academy farm since June. Last year, he was a freshman at Meyersdale High School.

Police Urge Cooperation At Frostburg

FROSTBURG — Police Chief Lloyd Truly appealed for the cooperation of motorists in observing the new one way traffic regulations instituted in Frostburg recently for Bowery and Center Streets.

Truly pointed out that Bowery Street traffic must move south it's entire length. Traffic for the State Teachers College, Midlothian or the south side of Frostburg enters Bowery from Main Street.

On Center Street, traffic moves north and enters Main Street. No traffic should enter Center from Main Street, he pointed out.

Wood Street, which parallels Center Street is also one way with traffic going the same direction as Center. Both streets converge into one about two blocks from Main Street.

The chief said the traffic light at Bowery Street has been reactivated to give pedestrians "a break" in crossing the street at that location. The through light is on for approximately one minute, and the red light halts all traffic for 15 seconds to give pedestrians time to cross. This was necessitated due to motorists not paying any attention to the foot traffic in that area by slowing down to a speed reasonable enough to allow pedestrians to cross safely.

Truly added that complaints have been received again at the City Hall concerning air rifles and sling shots. He urged that parents assume their responsibilities and instruct children that these are dangerous weapons and should be treated as such. Parents will be prosecuted in case children are apprehended while destroying property.

Attend Conclave

Six members of the faculty at Frostburg State Teachers College are attending the conference now being held in Baltimore for school supervisors in Maryland.

The conference is being held at Hotel Emerson and the general theme is "Moving Ahead in Education." The principal address will be given by Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr., state superintendent of schools. Also speaking are Dr. Walter Anderson, assistant dean of education, New York University and Dr. Harold D. Hand, professor of education at the University of Illinois.

Attending from state teachers college are President R. Bowen Hardesty, Miss Angela Brady, acting principal of the Laboratory School, Mrs. Grace S. Kopp, director of practice elementary teaching, Ivan C. Diehl, dean of instruction, John Dunn and Robert Jones, directors of practice junior high teaching.

Youth To Get New Trial In Manslaughter

Appeals Court Says Judge Committed Prejudicial Error

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—A 17-year-old youth convicted in Wicomico County Circuit Court of manslaughter in the slaying of another youth will get a new trial.

The Court of Appeals yesterday ordered the new trial for Robert Douglas Bruce of Salisbury who had been indicted for murder but convicted of manslaughter in the fatal shooting of Noland (Moose) Willey last Dec. 1 in Salisbury.

Bruce was sentenced to a maximum of six years in the Reformatory for Males.

The high court reversed the conviction on the ground that Circuit Judge Rex A. Taylor committed prejudicial error by permitting the State to impeach its own witness.

The witness was another teenager, Jimmie Lee Davis, who was called by the State on the first day of the trial. Davis testified that Willey had a knife in his hand during the struggle with Bruce. The State recalled Davis the next day and tried to impeach his previous testimony.

Testimony at the trial disclosed that the shooting occurred near the home of Miss Sherry Rickards. The two youths had gone there to settle a dispute about whether Bruce had said some uncomplimentary remarks about Willey to the girl.

Miss Rickard's father told them to go away. As the boys returned to their cars a scuffle ensued. Willey died almost instantly from a single shot from a 25-caliber pistol.

Hamilton P. Fox Jr., Wicomico County State's attorney, argued that the attempt to impeach Davis failed and, in fact, strengthened his original testimony. Therefore, he said, no harm was done and the attempt to impeach was not prejudicial to Bruce's defense.

But the appellate judges said in a unanimous ruling that the general rule prohibits a party from impeaching his own witness. They said this instance did not come under any of the recognized exceptions to the rule.

In recalling Davis and in presenting testimony by a State trooper, the State tried to show that Davis' testimony was inconsistent with a statement he had made previously.

The high court said it might have meant a verdict of innocent if Davis' original court testimony was believed, and it said testimony by the trooper regarding contradictory statements by the material witness also was prejudicial.

Defense Counsel Vaughn E. Richardson and Rich M. Pollitt also had argued that Judge Taylor failed to adequately instruct the jury regarding the self-defense law.

The appeals court said the trial judge "fairly covered the elements of that defense of which there was evidence to support the theory." But it said he should have permitted the defense attorneys to make objections to the instructions before the jury retired instead of making them wait until after the jury had left.

Hong Kong Police Arrest Red Leader

HONG KONG (UPI) — Police have arrested a top member of the pro - Communist Kuomintang Revolutionary Committee for illegal "political activities" here, the independent New Life Evening Post reported Tuesday night.

It said Hsuang Ching-Yi, described as a member of the Central Committee of the Kuomintang Committee, probably would be deported to Communist China.

The first machinegun in history was bought by Abraham Lincoln for the U. S. Army. Lincoln called the new type gun "a coffee mill."

Public Demand For Small, Cheap Car To Be Checked

DETROIT (AP) — The nation's auto makers should learn early in 1959 how much demand there is for smaller, lower priced cars.

Studebaker-Packard's introduction of its Lark series not only brings the prospect of a larger volume of smaller cars into the U.S. market, but it also lays the groundwork for a stiff competitive fight with American Motors.

And if S-P, like American Motors, lifts itself into profitable operations with the smaller unit, General Motors, Ford and Chrysler will push production of their own smaller vehicles.

GM, Ford and Chrysler have insisted their small car work has been strictly experimental but they could put the cars into production on short notice.

S-P's price schedule for the Lark series, built on a 108½-inch wheelbase disclosed some tags slightly lower and some a little higher than those of American Motors. The lowest price for the Lark models is lower than the lowest priced Ford, Plymouth or Chevrolet.

The cheapest Lark model in the four-door sedan styling has a factory list tag of $1,821. The lowest American Motors' rambler four-door model lists at $1,918.

Ford's lowest priced four-door sedan has a list price of $2,065; Plymouth $2,074 and Chevrolet $2,091.

The listings do not mean that you can get delivery at the prices stated. Taxes, dealer handling and optional equipment charges have to be added along with license fees and in some instances other fees.

Blain Frantz Income Tax Case Heard

Defense Tries To Remove Idea Money Was Hidden In Bank

BALTIMORE (AP) — The defense today tried to shake the government's contention that Blain Frantz, 52-year-old Western Maryland lumber and cattle dealer, hid money in a West Virginia bank to evade income taxes.

John H. Hessey, 4th, defense attorney, asked Milton Kyhos, Cumberland, special agent for the Internal Revenue Service, whether he knew that a man in the Cumberland Internal Revenue office knew about the bank deposits.

Kyhos replied "the government may have known about it, but I didn't."

At the opening of the Federal Court trial Monday, U. S. Atty. Leon H. A. Pierson told the jury he would show the Friendsville defendant attempted to evade taxes by hiding money in a bank at Bruceton Mills, W. Va.

Hessey drew from Kyhos that he had visited numerous other banks in the Maryland - West Virginia-Pennsylvania area and found no accounts in Frantz' name.

Hessey contended in his opening remarks Monday that Frantz was innocent of willful evasion of federal taxes.

Frantz is charged with earning more than $55,000 in 1951 but only reporting $12,772 for tax purposes, with reporting a small loss in 1952 when he earned more than $16,000 and reporting $4,924 in 1953 when he earned $11,326, the jury was told.

In today's session before Judge R. Dorsey Watkins, Kyhos, in reply to defense questions, said Frantz has a "beach cottage, well equipped. . .a home very modern in every respect" and that each of his three children have cars.

Kyhos said "they live as well as any family on an average wager-earners income."

See Studies Motions To Quash Cases

Judge Ernest A. See heard arguments today in Mineral County Court at Keyser on a motion to quash indictments against a Keyser physician and man charged with narcotics law violations.

Judge See took the matter under advisement. Dr. William A. Flick, a physician, and John Pollack were indicted by the grand jury.

Attorney H. G. Shores, who represents Dr. Flick, told the judge the indictment was faulty, as did Attorneys H. Howard Rogers and Reeves Taylor, who were appointed by the court to defend Pollack.

Dr. Flick was indicted on two counts of unlawfully and feloniously prescribing narcotics for Pollack. Pollack was indicted on 21 counts of either fraudulently obtaining narcotics or forging prescription blanks to obtain them.

In other court action yesterday in Keyser, Melvin Simmons, of Elk Garden, W. Va., who was indicted for shooting Junior B. Shillingburg, also of Elk Garden, pleaded guilty to malicious assault. Shillingburg was struck in the ankle by a rifle bullet.

Judge See gave Simmons a suspended sentence of two to 10 years in the penitentiary and paroled him for three years.

Earl Edward Carver, 21, of Ridgeley, entered a plea of guilty to breaking and entering and was paroled by Judge See. The man was represented by Attorney John Hamilton, who was appointed as defense counsel by the court.

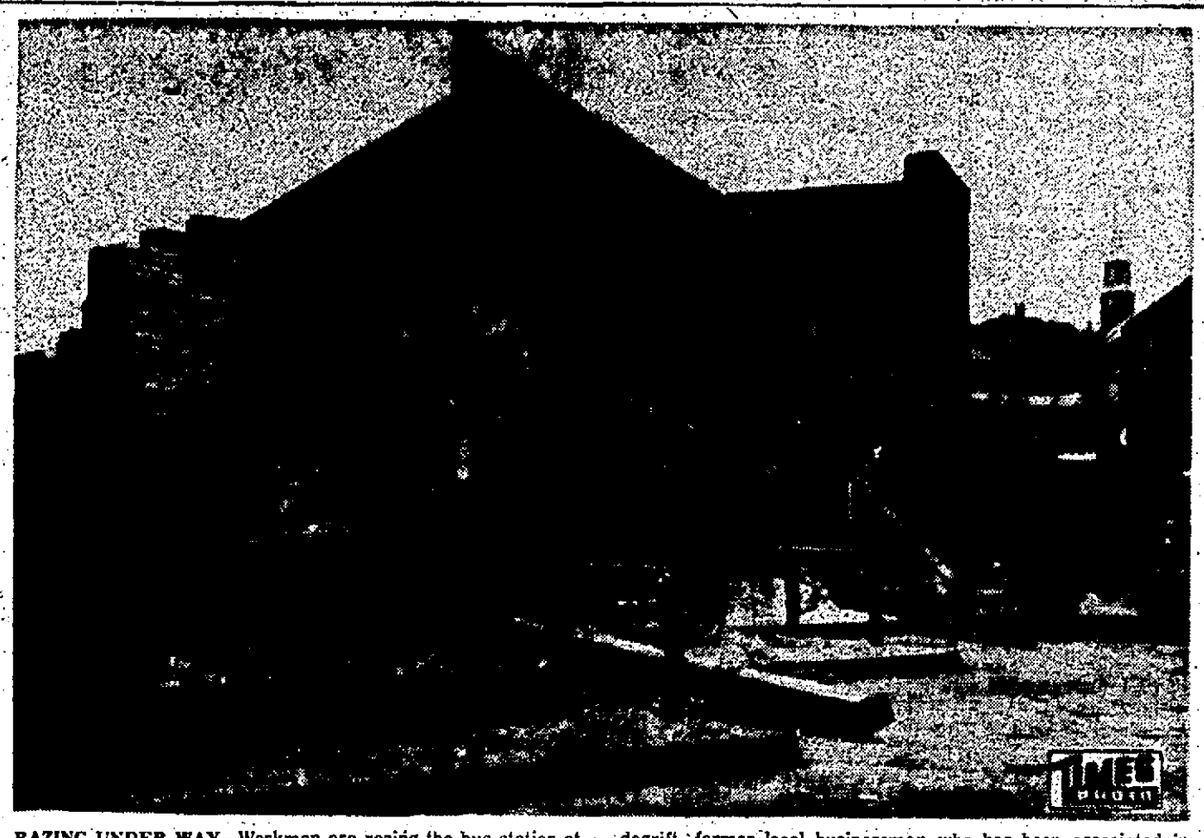
Teenagers Admit Vandalism Acts

Two teenage boys have admitted to police that they were the perpetrators of acts of vandalism at two homes in the Bedford-Frederick Street area two weeks ago.

Detective Lt. James E. Van said the boys did considerable damage to an outdoor fireplace and table at one residence and cut down a clothesline at another home and spelled out the word, 'Zorro,' on the lawn with the fragments of the line.

Lt. Van said a Juvenile Court hearing is pending on restitution for the damage incurred.

City Police are also investigating two petty thefts, a man reporting the theft of some lumber from a parked truck, and a housewife the loss of $8 that she reported taken from a purse at her home.



RAZING UNDER WAY—Workmen are razing the bus station at the site of the old Southern Hotel where a number of other buildings are being torn down to make way for a service station and parking lot. The new business is owned by Frank B. Vandegrift, former local businessman who has been associated in the oil business in the midwest in recent years. The old Garden Theatre has already been torn down and it is reported the only building which remaining is one which houses a garage.

COPE Urges Vote Support On Records

Allegany County union members and various candidates attending a rally here last night were told that COPE does not belong to the Democratic Party and is not opposed to Republicans as such.

Al Barkan, Washington, co-director of COPE, said "It is a plain lie" that the AFL-CIO's political organization is "only the tail of the Democratic Party's kite."

Barkan was the speaker at the political rally sponsored by the Western Maryland COPE, held in the Shrine City Club and attended by some 150 members of organized labor and their wives.

He said AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education asks people to support men on their record and platform.

For the most part COPE does support Democrats, he said, since in too few cases does the Republican Party present candidates whose records and programs deserve support.

Barkan said COPE has supported scores of Republicans, including Senators Langer, Tobey, Aiken and Smith.

He said he was worried by the tyranny of voting by tradition.

John R. Foley, Democratic candidate for Congress, said his opponent does not represent his District. Foley said he, himself, wants to be the people's "representative, not Congressman."

He said Rep. Hyde had a score of 13 "wrong" and three "right" votes on the Maryland COPE "fact sheet."

Foley said his opponent interfered when he urged an investigation of the O'Sullivan Rubber Company strike in Winchester, Va. He added his opponent called for an investigation of the union, not both sides.

Mrs. Esther Murray, director of women's activities for COPE, said Rep. Hyde was "not on our side of the table" last year when Congress voted on legislation to increase the term of unemployment benefits.

The election in Maryland, she said, will be so close "that the votes needed may be in this room."

Culver B. Windsor, associate director of the Maryland COPE, was master of ceremonies.

Speakers included W. E. Strong, state AFL-CIO president, who said the November 4 battle will be won at the polls and urged labor to "vote and see that your neighbor votes."

Orchestra Makes Plans For Concert

Robert Tomsko was elected president of the Cumberland Civic Symphony Orchestra at a recent meeting.

Other officers named are Harry Malcolm, vice president; Mrs. Howard W. Irwin, secretary; Eleanor Rice, treasurer and R. Finley Thompson, promotion. The board of directors is comprised of John Pevear, Dr. W. H. Wagaman, Ann Thompson Baum and Wilton Sykes.

Plans for a concert to be held at Allegany High School auditorium November 18 were made. The program will start at 8:15 p. m.

Two organizations have been authorized to sell tickets, both season and single admission. They are the Cumberland Chapter of Hadassah and Allegany County Historical Society. Tickets will also be available at the Beall Insurance and Realty Company office in Frostburg, Albert's Market, LaVale; Cooley's Pharmacy, Henderson Avenue; and Sykes' Music Store.

Joyce Zornig will be soloist at the November 18 performance. She is a mezzo-soprano

Social Security Payments Soften Recession Impact

One of the factors which helped soften the impact of the recession in the Cumberland area was the payment of more than half a million dollar monthly in Social Security benefits.

More than half this amount, $350,000 is paid to residents of Allegany County. The total paid monthly to beneficiaries in the area totals $575,000. There are approximately 12,000 persons in Allegany, Garrett, Mineral, Hampshire, Hardy and Grant counties who receive benefits.

The total amount in benefits will increase by $25,000 starting in January, 1959 due to recent amendments to the Social Security law. All beneficiaries, of course, will receive a boost in their payments.

In addition, the new categories of payment to claimants and prospective claimants will further increase the amount of benefits paid monthly to the people of the area served by the Cumberland district office.

Additional monies will also be forthcoming and in fact, are already being paid in some cases. The part of the amendments dealing with the disability program declared among other things that those receiving disability benefits would receive their full amount from social security regardless of whether or not they were receiving other payments from Federal or State sources on account of disability. This will add considerably to the beneficiaries affected. The largest economic gain under the disability changes will be in the payments to the families of those receiving disability benefits. Currently, wives, mothers, and children; and in some cases husbands of disabled persons are entitled to draw social security benefits on the basis of the disabled persons wage record. This factor will add thousands of dollars to the monthly social security amount being paid in the area.

Also changes dealing with the payment to disabled children, to parents even when a wife or child survive the wage earner, and the elimination of the waiting period in regard to adopted children will again add to the Social Security payments.

Due to the many and varied additions to social security in just a few years time, the money coming into this service area, along with the whole country, from social security has increased tremendously.

The aforementioned figures showing that by January 1959, about $600,000 will be paid monthly to social security recipients, might be contrasted to figures of December 31, 1955—just three short years ago—the payment to all beneficiaries residing in our service area was $369,000.

In the category of old-age insurance benefits, current figures disclose that over 55 per cent of persons over 65 years of age are receiving Social Security benefits. When it is remembered that many persons over 65 are still not retired, this figure indicates the almost universal effect of Social Security.

Due to the population alignment, the bulk of money naturally is being paid into Allegany County. In fact, well over half of the total is received by Allegany County residents; or more precisely, $350,000 is received monthly by retired wage earners and their families, or the dependents of deceased workers.

A breakdown by counties of the amount of money currently being expended in each category follows:

	Allegany	Garrett	Mineral	Grant	Hampshire	Hardy
Old-age	$205,000	$35,000	$43,500	$19,500	$23,000	$17,500
Wife or Husband	40,000	6,800	7,900	3,600	5,000	3,200
Child's	40,000	6,700	8,800	3,100	2,250	2,600
Widow or Widower	28,000	3,850	5,200	1,250	1,350	1,000
Mother's	14,000	2,100	2,400	1,150	1,050	1,000
Parent's	600	100	300	——	200	——
*Disability	8,000	1,700	2,300	850	450	300

*This figure reflects only the figures received by the disabled wage earner. The effects of the 1958 amendments are not reflected.

Potomac State "Artists" Pay For Smearing

SHEPHERDSTOWN, W. Va. (UPI)—Potomac State College sophomore William McPherson of Parkersburg today handed a $250 check to Shepherd College president Oliver S. Ikenberry. They shook hands and agreed that last Oct. 9 should be a forgotten day.

McPherson was accompanied to a special Shepherd assembly by Potomac president E. E. Church, Potomac student president Ronald Lawman of Clarksburg and athletic director Dana G. Lough. The two schools are traditional rivals in athletics for officials didn't want things to get out of hand.

Ikenberry was more than slightly upset—and the Shepherd students were up in arms—after discovering on the morning of Oct. 10 that big Pro - Potomac signs painted in whitewash on campus buildings. The annual Shepherd-Potomac football game was coming up at Keyser on the 11th.

Ikenberry informed Church what had happened. Church investigated, found out who the 25 "artists" were and "fined" each of them. The boys agreed to pay up and chose McPherson as their representative to come here and tell Shepherd students they were sorry.

Incidentally, Shepherd almost returned the whitewash at Keyser. On the football field, Shepherd won 26-7.

Eisenhower To Deliver State Talk

Appearance Set For Baltimore Friday; Democrats Active

By The Associated Press

President Eisenhower's decision to deliver a major speech in Baltimore Friday night again spotlights the seriousness with which both parties view the Maryland senatorial campaign.

Vice President Nixon preceded Eisenhower into the state last week on behalf of GOP candidates. Secretary of Agriculture Benson appeared earlier in the campaign and Sen. Javits (R-NY) will speak tomorrow at a testimonial dinner honoring Sen. J. Glenn Beall, who seeks reelection in Maryland.

National Democratic leaders haven't exactly bypassed the state either, possibly seeing a good chance for Baltimore Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro to unseat Beall.

Other Big Guns Here

Former President Harry Truman, Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass), national chairman Paul M. Butler and other bigwigs have found time to visit Maryland during the campaign.

Eisenhower's 30-minute speech, which will be televised on a national hookup, probably will be his last appearance in the fast-closing campaign.

State GOP party leaders immediately issued a "open invitation" for all to attend the rally in the huge 5th Regiment Armory. In an apparent move to assure a capacity crowd of 12,000, it was announced that Eisenhower's speech would be preceded by professional entertainment from New York. There will be no admission charge.

The state Democratic ticket came out slugging after receiving news of the President's scheduled speech.

D'Alesandro told a Baltimore audience last night that Beall had been elected in 1952 "on the coat tails of the President, but he didn't know then that the coat was made out of vicuna."

Going Democratic

Referring to the appearance of Eisenhower and Nixon in Maryland, the mayor said "next thing they're going to bring in the militia, but this state is going Democratic anyway." Similar remarks were made by Louis L. Goldstein, Democratic candidate for comptroller.

J. Millard Tawes, the party's candidate for governor, said he had been informed the Republicans would issue a "derogatory pamphlet" about him this weekend just before the election.

Tawes, who will appear on the same television program with his GOP opponent James P. Devereux tonight, said he will campaign in the Eastern Shore counties of Wicomico, Somerset and Worcester this weekend.

Gov. McKeldin made a speech in Baltimore yesterday for the GOP candidates. Beall and Devereux toured the city and then made an appearance in Bethesda.

New Companies Incorporated

Two new corporations, one in Allegany County and the other in Garrett County, have been formed, according to papers filed with the Maryland State Tax Commission.

BMR Salvage Company Inc., RD 1, states it will engage in the merchandise business. Capital stock of 1,000 shares of common stock has a par value of $1 each.

Incorporators are listed as Milton Bernstein, Dennis L. McIntyre and John W. Roy.

The other is the Garrett Limestone Company, Accident, to quarry lime stone. It is authorized to issue 2,000 shares of stock valued at $50 each.

Incorporators are Forrest O. Calhoun, Claude W. Wagner Sr. and W. Dwight Stover.

Cards Cheer County Boy With Polio

A two-year-old county boy who was stricken with polio three weeks ago has been taken to Baltimore for treatment.

The child, Russell E. "Rusty" Haines Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. Haines, of Potomac Park, is a patient in Children's Hospital School.

Relatives of the boy said he has expressed great pleasure out of receiving cards from members of the family and friends.

Anyone who would like to send him a card, particularly ones with animal pictures, can do so by addressing them to "Rutsy" at the hospital. The address is Children's Hospital School, Greenspring Avenue and North Keyworth Avenue, Baltimore.

Parking Lot To Be Opened On Saturday

Cumberland's newest parking lot, located on the site of the old South Mechanic Street Western Maryland Railway freight shed, will be opened for business Saturday morning.

A ribbon cutting ceremony will precede the opening. Participating will be Mayor J. Edwin Keech, Sergius Gambal of Washington, president of Coach Systems Inc., the firm which has leased the property from the Western Maryland, and Frank Martin, Simon Rosenbaum and Thomas B. Finan, who will represent the Downtown Parking Corporation and the Retail Merchants Bureau. The ceremony is scheduled for 11 a. m.

The parking association and retail merchants were active in the negotiations which led to the leasing of the parking lot, Martin pointed out today. Finan is attorney for the local parking corporation and was city solicitor at the time the Western Maryland negotiated for the closing of Canal Street so that the Mechanic Street property could be leased.

The parking lot will handle 100 cars, according to Robert McGregor of Lonaconing, who will manage the business for Coach Systems Inc. An assistant will also be employed.

The area was being blacktopped today and the work is expected to be completed well before the opening of the lot.

Washington New Roadway Bids Studied

Moorefield Firm Low Bidder On Route 45 Work

A low-level route to Washington and the east is closer to a reality after the results of bids were announced on projects advertised by the West Virginia State Roads Commission.

Elvin C. Riggleman, Moorefield, submitted the apparent low bid of $242,543 to build 5.844 miles of West Virginia Route 45 from the Forks of Cacapon to the West Virginia State Line.

This was among the federal aid road improvement projects announced by the roads commission yesterday in Charleston.

Go To Paw Paw

This Route 45 work is part of an overall plan that will provide a low-level, non-mountainous route to the east from this section.

Cumberlanders will drive from here to Paw Paw on Route 51, then to Forks of Cacapon on Route 29, and then over the new road which Riggleman will construct, to the Virginia state line.

The link from the state line to U. S. Route 522, north south route connecting will be built by the Virginia Roads Department, according to Patrick C. Graney, W. Va. roads commissioner.

This will complete the low-level road as motorists will use U. S. Route 522 into Winchester and then go over Route 50 into Washington.

Picturesque Route

The route is a most picturesque one, going through the Potomac River and Cacapon River valleys.

The W. Va. Roads Department also announced apparent low bidders on two other jobs.

A long sought project for Keyser, linking the Memorial Bridge with Route 220 in the south of that city, was also announced.

The low bidders, a joint proposition, was that of V. P. Stickely of Burlington and J. M. Francesca and Company of Fayetteville, for the .773-mile job.

Other Bids Received

The contract price of $544,472 will include of grading, draining and cement concrete paving from West Piedmont Street to the south city limit.

Bids were opened October 7.

The Terra Alta Limestone Company of Kingwood was the apparent low bidder on a 2.573-mile project of West Virginia Route 72 from St. George in Tucker County toward the Preston County line.

The bid of $62,794 is for hot-laid asphaltic concrete bottom and wearing courses and crusher run stone shoulder.

Riggleman's bid of $254,411 was the apparent low figure for 2.087 miles of the Buckhannon-Horner Route in Upshur and Lewis counties.

Democrats To Hold Rally On Thursday

The final rally of the Allegany County Democratic Party before the election Tuesday will be held tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the Cumberland Eagles Home.

Simon F. Reilly, county campaign chairman, said the emphasis will be placed on the county candidates, each of whom will make short talks.

Reilly pointed to the increased vigor in the party as evidenced in the many rallies conducted throughout the county in this campaign.

Tomorrow's meeting will have as speakers these candidates—George A. Boch, Thomas F. Conlon Jr., Graydon S. Dunlap, Edward P. Flanigan and William Walsh for House of Delegates; Howard P. Loughrie for sheriff, and William J. Brode, John Tucker Mason and John J. Rowan, for county commissioner.

The session will be for Democratic election officials, precinct leaders and poll workers, together with all Democrats and Republicans who are interested, Reilly added.

Final instructions and supplies for Tuesday's all-out effort will be distributed to the workers.

Music and refreshments will be available.

COLLECTION DAY TOMORROW

Four Injured In Crashes On Area Roads

Four persons, three of them students at Bruce High School of Westernport, were injured in two separate auto accidents yesterday.

The three high school youths were injured when their automobile struck a parked vehicle on State Route 36 in Barton.

Admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital in Keyser, W. Va., were Martin Cosgrove, 15, of Westernport, with a severe laceration in the interior of his mouth, and Robert Ritchie, 16, also of Westernport, who sustained a large bump on the right side of his forehead.

Examined and X-rayed but not admitted to the hospital was the driver of the vehicle, William Luther Wright Jr., 16, of Westernport.

Trooper Robert C. Dishong of the State Police said charges were preferred against Wright, whose car struck a parked vehicle belonging to a Keyser man. Andrew Fraser, causing nearly $1,000 in damages to the two automobiles.

The state trooper said six Westernport youths were riding in Wright's car in a line of traffic.

The second accident occurred about one-half mile east of Swanton on State Route 135.

Decorsey Emroy Bolden, 33, of 4604 Woodfield Road, Bethesda, was admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital in Oakland with a possible concussion.

Tfc. R. D. Henline said Bolden, who was traveling alone, said he was forced off the highway by an unidentified vehicle, lost control of his car, careened across the road and struck an embankment. He said Bolden's condition is "fairly good."

FORD'S DRUG STORES
Cumberland and Frostburg

To the thinking people of Allegany County:

A clean sweep in Allegany County this year would be good for all the people.

For nearly forty years no local Democrat has been elected, and during the past fifteen or twenty years practically the same small group of Republican candidates in Allegany County have been elected to office.

We suggest that others, both Democrats and Republicans, should be given a chance, and the best way to start this is to elect the following nine Democratic local candidates:

FOR SHERIFF
Howard P. Loughrie

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS
William J. Brode
John Tucker Mason
John J. Rowan

HOUSE OF DELEGATES

Thomas F. Conlon, Jr.

Giese Calls Terp Line 'Toughest We'll Face'

Gamecocks' Coach Sees Contest As Land Battle

By The Associated Press

As South Carolina Coach Warren Giese sees it, Saturday's Atlantic Coast Conference football game at Maryland will be a grinding infantry duel.

Giese, who specializes in ground tactics, says the Terrapins have "the toughest line (we've) faced," and South Carolina has had experience thus far with Duke, Army, North Carolina, Georgia and Clemson.

Maryland In Cellar

The Gamecocks will be fighting for a stronger grip on second place in the ACC, which they share at two wins and one defeat with Wake Forest. Maryland, 1-3, is in the loop cellar.

Despite the spread in standings, Maryland ranks just ahead of the Gamecocks in total ACC offense (230 yards vs. 204.4). In total defense the Gamecocks average 315.8 to Maryland's 284.5.

Get Bad Breaks

Maryland's losing season, Giese adds, "is entirely a matter of bad breaks . . . a bad bounce of the ball repeatedly has robbed them of scores."

While the Gamecocks polished up their running attack yesterday, the Terps concentrated on offense and defense in a 90-minute scrimmage to beat what Coach Tommy Mont calls a "very solid all-around football team."

Maryland Starting Backfield Intact

By The Associated Press

The "welcome home" sign is up around the nation's gridiron practice fields today as many "prodigal" football players prepare for an infrequent game appearance this weekend.

Foremost is Bob Reifsnyder, Navy's All America tackle who has yet to play this season. The Valley Stream, N. Y., tackle suffered a pulled achilles tendon during a September practice session and has been sidelined since. He said he would play against Notre Dame in Baltimore.

Maryland's Tommy Mont will have his starting backfield in one unit for the first time Saturday against South Carolina. Halfbacks Ted Kershner and John Forbes, fullback Jim Joyce and quarterbacks Bob Ruseviyn or Dickie Scarbath have all been plagued with injuries.

Michigan, which has lost fullbacks John Herrnstein, by injury, and Tony Rio by suspension, welcomed back Jim Byers. Byers has been out since the first week of practice and is reported ready for the Iowa game Saturday.

Byers moves into the No. 2 fullback slot behind Gene Sisinyak.

Duke's Harris Ready

Duke, which plays Georgia Tech this week, added quarterback George Harris to its hale and hearty list. Harris has been out with a knee injury, suffered against Virginia Sept. 27. But the Blue Devils saw their No. 1 center, Ted Royal, as a questionable participant against Tech because of a sprained right ankle.

Coach Dick Colman of Princeton, beset with a host of injuries, named Frank Schults at right tackle against Brown Saturday. Schults missed eight weeks of practice due to head injuries.

Marquette has its good news in double doses. Fullbacks Ron Fieber and John Lane both reported ready for Detroit this weekend. Fieber has been sidelined since pre-season practice while Lane broke a finger in Marquette's opening game.

Ed Stubblebine, 244-pound Penn tackle, gets his first start in two years against Harvard this week. Stubblebine broke a leg in pre-season drills two years ago and was out of school last year.

Missouri continues to prepare for its Big Eight battle with Nebraska, with end Dale Pidcock returning to duty after a knee operation.

Georgia Tech's Coach Bobby Dodd moved center Phil Baum to the left guard slot, where he lettered in 1955. He missed the last two seasons with a bad back, but returned this season as a center.

Eichhorns Boost 'Coney Dux Lead

Eichhorn jumped into a four-game lead in the Lonaconing City Bowling League with a sweep over Stakems while Groves edged Liberty Trust, 2-1, and Republican Club took the odd game from White Way Inn, 2-1. Four clubs are tied for the runnerup slot.

Bill Hendra led Eichhorns with a 171-507 while "Rip" Nicol took over the high average with a 170 while marking up a 202-544 for Stakems.

Other team leaders were Bill Murphy, 204-506, Groves; Jack Blair, 171-475, Liberty Trust; Jumbo Duckworth, 203-562, GOP; Ike Gentry, 182-442, White Way.

Standings:

	W	L		W	L
Eichhorns	8	1	Lib. Trust	4	5
Groves	4	5	GOP	4	5
Stakems	4	5	White Way	3	6

Brown Backs Lead Pros In Ground Gains

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Imagine National Football League teams preparing a defense against a pair of backs each averaging around seven yards per rush.

That's the task confronting opponents of the Cleveland Browns and their backfield scourges, Jimmy Brown and rookie Bob Mitchell. Between them, they've netted 1,229 yards in five games to date.

Brown, of course, has everything in the offense world wrapped up in the rushing bracket—total yardage with 815 in 118 carries for a 6.9-yard average, an average of 163 yards per game and 14 touchdowns scored. All this, with seven games to go!

Mitchell, with 414 yards in 53 carries for a 7.8 average, was in second place in the statistics, leading with a comfortable 90 yards over third - place Lennie Moore of the Baltimore Colts.

Moore jumped from sixth place to third, with Willie Galimore of the Chicago Bears holding fourth place with 323 yards and Tommy Wilson of Los Angeles dropping from third to fifth with 302.

The big bump among the passers came when Babe Parilli of Green Bay, profiting on a fat afternoon against the Philadelphia Eagles, jumped into first place in a shift which tumbled previous leader Eddie LeBaron of the Washington Redskins to third.

Parilli, who threw three touchdowns in the Packers' first victory, posted a 9.95-yard average gain for each pass thrown this season. Mack Reynolds of the Chicago Cardinals was second with 9.15 and LeBaron's third place average was 9.08.

Ortiz Says He's Not Quite Ready For Title Crack

LONDON (UPI)—Young Carlos Ortiz said today he'll wait six months before challenging for the world lightweight title despite Tuesday night's impressive victory over British champion Dave Charnley.

"I'm not ready yet," explained the 22-year-old New Yorker who had given American ring prestige a needed boost before a sellout crowd of more than 10,000 at the final boxing show in Harringay Arena.

"I don't want to fight for the title now," said the stocky, black-haired boxer-puncher, who had bloodied both of the English southpaw's eyes while easily winning referee Andy Smyth's decision.

"Give me another six months and a few more fights; then I'll be after the title," he concluded.

Puerto Rican-born Carlos, now ranked third among contenders for the 135-pound crown, broke the American bad luck streak with the first U.S. boxing victory on English soil in four months, studded by four U.S. defeats and one draw. It was his 28th win in 30 professional bouts. He lost only once and had a no-decision affair.

Football Officials' Dinner Set Nov. 17

The annual dinner of the Potomac Valley Football Officials Association will be held at the Old Homestead Hotel, Burlington, Monday, November 17, according to secretary John H. Shelton, Keyser. The dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. Light refreshments will be served at 5:30 p. m.

Invitations have been sent out to members and coaches and a request is made to have replies reach Mr. Shelton by November 14.

Two Michigan Stars Nabbed For Gambling

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—Two top University of Michigan athletes were among seven students scheduled to be arraigned today as members of a $10,000-a - week football card gambling ring.

First string fullback Tony Rio and basketball captain Jack Lewis, were among those named in police warrants issued Tuesday. Both are seniors from Chicago and roommates at the university.

H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, director of athletics at the university, said the two would be removed from their squads pending further investigation of the charge.

Others named in the warrants were Carl Riseman, Detroit, associate sports editor of the campus newspaper; Mike Dodgson, Grand Rapids, Mich., Nick Mitea, Ecorse, Mich.; Durwood Collins, Grenada, Miss., and John Miller, Detroit.

They were charged specifically with engaging in an illegal occupation, conviction of which carries a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail.

All seven were scheduled to appear today before Municipal Judge Francis O'Brien.

James A. Lewis, university vice president for student affairs, said the university plans to launch its own investigation into the activities of the ring.

Head football coach Benny Oosterbaan, and basketball coach Bill Perigo, expressed complete surprise and shock at the involvement of the two athletes.

Both Rio and Lewis worked out with their respective teams Tuesday, but Crisler said they would be removed from their positions "until their cases are decided."

Franks Spill Pacing Spas

Frank's Tavern spilled pacing Spa Bar, 2-1, in the South End Liquor and Beer Dealers Bowling League and moved within a game of first place.

South End Democrats also picked up ground in third place with a 2-1 victory over Veterans of Foreign Wars. Lynn & Racey rolled a 3-0 shutout over King's Tavern and Wonder Bar took all three from DAV.

Top pin-spillers for their teams were George Sachs, 204-522, Lynn & Racey; I. W. JOHN GUZIK

Pitt's Guzik Voted Week's No. 1 Lineman

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

John Guzik, 233-pound guard who led a Pitt goal line against Army reminiscent of the stonewall defenses thrown up by the Panthers during Jock Sutherland's coaching regime, was named Lineman of the Week today by The Associated Press.

"As Guzik goes so goes Pitt" has been the campus comment at Pitt this fall. Guzik was at the top of his game as Pitt held Army, then rated the nation's No. 1 team, to a 14-14 tie last Saturday.

Guzik, 6-3 senior from Lawrence, Pa., intercepted an Army aerial and made many key tackles that stalled the Army offense. But his greatest play came late in the game when Army drove to the Pitt four.

On fourth down Guzik broke through and smeared Army halfback Steve Waldrop and Pitt took over on downs. Pitt's quarterback Ivan Toncic received credit for an assist on the play.

Guzik is a draft choice of the Los Angeles Rams in the National Football League. He suffered a broken arm against West Virginia in 1956.

Bob Novogratz, Army guard, similarly played a bangup game. Army coaches credited him with 18 tackles in 60 defensive plays.

Henry Christopher, Southern Methodist end, likewise was high up in the weekly Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters. Christopher put on a grand exhibition as the Mustangs beat Georgia Tech.

Danny Litwhiler 'Goes To College'

By United Press International

Danny Litwhiler, a major league outfielder for 11 years, probably never will make baseball's Hall of Fame but one of his gloves is exhibited at Cooperstown. Danny once went 174 games without an error setting a record for outfielders, hence the exhibit of his "fielding tool" at Cooperstown, N. Y. Litwhiler came up to the Phillies in 1940 and stayed for four seasons before moving to the Cardinals, then the Braves and finally to Cincinnati, where he wound up his career in 1951. Danny hit 110 homers in his career and finished with an average of .281.

Whatever happened to Danny Litwhiler? Now 41, he is baseball coach at Florida State University.

Fined Hawks Tie Montreal

By United Press International

The Chicago Black Hawks were feeling — you should pardon the expression—fine today over their comeback performance against the Montreal Canadiens Tuesday night.

Fined $100 each last week after absorbing a humiliating 9-1 defeat at Montreal, the Black Hawks scored three times in the last six minutes to gain a 5-5 deadlock in their latest battle with the National Hockey League's pacesetters.

Ron Murphy scored twice within 40 seconds to reduce Montreal's lead to 5-4, then Bobby Hull added his second goal of the game at 17:19 to climax the rally. The other Chicago goal was turned in by Dollard St. Laurent, a former member of the Canadiens.

Henri Richard and Bernie Geoffrion posted two goals apiece for the Canadiens.

Montreal visits Toronto and the New York Rangers host the Boston Bruins tonight.

Redskins 1½-Point Choice Over Steelers

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Steelers assume their customary season role as underdogs for their meeting here Sunday against the Washington Redskins.

The visitors are a 1½ point favorite to beat the Steelers for the 13th time in their rivalry; Pittsburgh has defeated the Redskins 25 times.

Orioles Planning To Ease Burden On Paul Richards

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles were reported today ready to appoint a new general manager to ease the burden on field boss Paul Richards.

The move was reported by Jesse A. Linthicum, sport editor of The Sun, who said the Orioles were convinced "Richards is no superman."

Richards has held the dual job of manager-general manager since moving to Baltimore from the Chicago White Sox for the start of the 1955 season. He was manager at Chicago.

"According to a well-informed source," Linthicum wrote in today's editions, "the changes already have been made and official announcement will follow in a few days."

Linthicum said the job reportedly has been offered to a man well-known in baseball circles in another major league city after being declined by a Baltimore sportsman-business man two weeks ago.

"Under a new setup," Linthicum said, "Richards will continue as playing manager, and instead of holding the title of general manager, will be in charge of player personnel. His status will be practically unchanged."

Bill Walsingham, formerly of the St. Louis Cardinals, has been aiding in the front office operation as executive vice president since November, 1956.

Walsingham still has one year to go on a three-year contract. When he was appointed, Oriole President Jim Keelty said Walsingham would handle the administrative and executive operation of the front office and his duties would not conflict with those of Richards.

Two British Heavies Get Top Rankings

NEW YORK (AP) —The heavyweight rankings underwent a big reshuffling by Ring magazine today as the result of British victories over America's Zora Folley and Willie Pastrano.

Cuba's Nino Valdes moved into the No. 2 contender's spot behind Sweden's Ingemar Johansson. For the first time in years, two Britons, Brian London and Henry Cooper, were listed in the elite top 10. London was ranked seventh, Cooper eighth.

Roy Harris Ousted

Following up Johansson's one-round knockout of Eddie Machen, London stopped Pastrano, of Miami Beach, Fla., on cuts, and Cooper outpointed Folley, of Chandler, Ariz.

Here's the way the heavyweight top 10 looks behind World Champion Floyd Patterson:

1. Johansson; 2. Valdes; 3. Folley; 4. Pastrano; 5. Machen, Redding, Calif.; 6. light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, San Diego; 7. London; 8. Cooper; 9. Sonny Liston, Philadelphia; 10. Pat McMurtry, Tacoma, Wash.

Roy Harris, of Cut and Shoot, Tex., idle since he was stopped by Patterson; Argentina's Alex Miteff and Canadian champion George Chuvalo of Toronto were ousted.

Jordan Honored

Don Jordan, top-ranking welterweight contender who earned a title fight by beating Gaspar Ortega of Mexico, for the second straight time, was named "Fighter of the Month" by Ring.

Two leading contenders in other divisions were demoted.

Tony Anthony of New York replaced Philadelphia's Harold Johnson as the No. 1 contender in the light heavyweight class.

Piero Rollo, of Italy, the new European bantamweight champion took over as the leading 118-pound contender, by defeating countryman Mario D'Agata.

Leo Espinosa of the Philippines, No. 1 a month ago, was demoted to second place. Espinosa lost his Orient bantam crown to Japan's Keyoshi Miura, who moved into the rankings as No. 7.

Di Nucci And Vejar To Fight In Boston

BOSTON (UPI) — Matchmaker Johnny Buckley said Tuesday that Joe Di Nucci of Newton, Mass., will meet Chico Vejar of Stamford, Conn., in a 10 - round bout at Boston Garden Nov. 27. De Nucci has won 16 straight.

Calhoun, Szuzina In Brawn Battle

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI)—Brawn meets brawn tonight when Rory Calhoun, 10th-ranked middleweight squares off with squat Franz Szuzina of Bremen, Germany, in a 10-round, nationally-televised fight.

Both employ similar styles, boring in constantly to concentrate on heavy body punching.

For the pudgy Bremen bulldog, this style is a necessity because he usually gives away height and reach to an opponent. But the short-armed Szuzina has met some of the toughest in his class and has the reputation of being a "spoiler" in his trade.

The 25-year-old Calhoun stands to gain or lose the most in this bout. He hopes to meet the winner of the upcoming Joey Giardello-Spider Webb fight and go on to challenge either Ray Robinson or Carmen Basilio for the middleweight title.

Old LAC Star Dies

Calvin William Shipes, who died yesterday at Sacred Heart Hospital at the age of 58, was a standout player on the Liberty AC baseball team of years gone by.

During his days as an athlete, he went under the name of Crutchley and was known as a batter that opposing pitchers respected.

Bill was a good pitcher, but because of his ability to hit the long ball, he played in the outfield in games that he wasn't slated to hurl. He was also a top defensive player.

President of Local 812, Municipal Employes Association, Bill played with other local independent teams after the powerful Liberty AC broke up.

Sports Keg Residue

The Washington Post and Times Herald has named Fort Hill High's Bill Koerner as the Maryland schoolboy Player of the Week for his six-touchdown performance against Westminster last Saturday night at the stadium . . . Bill's father, an unemployed certified public accountant, was so impressed by Bill's play that he reportedly told him: "If you want to go to college but don't get an athletic scholarship, I'll send you, somehow." . . . The Fort Hill halfback also is an ardent weightlifter and can press 200 pounds with one arm . . . Ellis Wisler injured his knee last Friday night in the 7-0 victory over William & Mary and won't see action for George Washington this coming Saturday at Morgantown against West Virginia . . . The former Allegany High star, a sophomore at GW, has been showing steady improvement and started last Friday's game in place of regular left tackle Pete Wasilewski . . . Incidentally, Colonial coach Bo Sherman scouted West Virginia in its 21-20 squeaker over Virginia Tech and feels his team has a good chance of upsetting the Mountaineers . . . Ed Schwarz, Allegany's new football mentor, is of the opinion that those marks in the hand of Keyser's Mike Main were from shoe cleats, not teeth prints . . . After the game several weeks ago between Alco and Keyser, the Golden Tornado's physician thought Main's hand had ben bitten and ordered a precautionary shot of tetanus . . . Schwarz was upset by the report and said it was his opinion the injury came as a result of Main having his hand stepped on . . . "The nylon cleats that players wear today would leave marks similar to teeth prints," Schwarz

Taking The Sportkeg

There's an interesting "rags-to-riches" story in the current issue of Saturday Evening Post about Johnny Unitas, the story-book quarterback of Baltimore's fast-stepping Colts.

Written by Jimmy Breslin, whose NEA articles frequently appear in this paper, the story repeats the oft-told tale of how the Colts landed the National Football League's Player of the Year for 1957 with an 80-cent telephone call to Pittsburgh.

It makes good reading and it's true that Don Kellett, general manager of the Colts, made the call that led Unitas to Baltimore. But the story behind that story is Herman Ball.

Ball, the former Allegany High mentor who is Weeb Ewbank's right-hand man at Baltimore, happened to be an assistant coach at Pittsburgh when Unitas was with the Steelers and it was Herman who told the Colts when he went with them two years ago about Johnny's potentialities as a pro quarterback. Herman recommended a tryout for Unitas and Kellett made the call.

The Unitas story, by the way, hit the newsstands at a perfect time—right after he led the Dobbins to a 35-10 victory over the Redskins this past Sunday before a record crowd in Baltimore.

Ball also played a unique part in that win which kept the Colts undefeated and at the top of the Western Division standings.

While the Colts' offensive forwards were doing a job on the Redskins, line coach Ball was on the telephone in the end zone press box.

For the first time the Colts made use of a large polaroid camera which snapped pictures of the Redskins' defenses and in less than a minute, Ball had picture-proof of what was going on down on the field.

"The Redskins were doing what we expected on defense. But it gave us confirmation of the way they spaced their men," Ball explained. "This was a new wrinkle for us, and it's something we can benefit from in the future."

John Yovicsin Recruiting In Student Body

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — College football has come full cycle at Harvard, where it has been played for 85 years.

John Yovicsin

John Yovicsin and his staff are recruiting within the student body. That's the way it was done 40 years ago.

Harvard hasn't had a football team demanding national respect, let alone recognition, in years. Crimson football became strictly a local story, largely confined to The Yard, if, indeed, there was much interest among the undergraduates.

"Harvard just gave up," it was said. It was even suggested that Cambridge abandon the game rather than play it so half-heartedly.

So, it is refreshing to see this season's Cantabs playing an imaginative game directed by a brash five-foot-nine, 160-pound sophomore quarterback from Charleston, S. C., via Exeter, Charley Ravenel.

Retain Eight Starters

Harvard retained eight 1957 starters and nine from the second unit, but it is a remarkable band of sophomores that give the Crimson speed and depth for which Cambridge was hardly noted in the recent past. Another lift is that Coach Yovicsin and his assistants now know the personnel and the players the balanced T, introduced last fall after 11 year of single wing.

After Harvard whacked Columbia at Baker Field in New York, Buff Donelli explained that the Lion was anything but ambushed. Coach Donelli came to Morningside Heights from Boston University, which scrimmaged Harvard every spring.

"I had an extra good line on the Harvard material," said Donelli. "I realized that we were to have no picnic with backs like Chet Boulris and linemen on the order of Bob Shaunessy. Harvard has always attracted good boys. The trouble has been that too many of them have given up football after arriving there."

Task Not Hopeless

"That's true," says the handsome Yovicsin, who was brought on from Gettysburg College in March of last year. A lot of Old Crimsons considered Yovicsin, who drilled Pennsylvania and New Jersey high school teams before spending nine years at Gettysburg, the last five as head man, a strange choice. They also were of the opinion that he was tackling a hopeless task.

Yovicsin knew Harvard was attracting star preparatory school players quite naturally and through its far-flung and highly influential alumni.

"The trouble was," he explains, "that when boys taking pre-med, pre-law and other tough courses found keeping up their grades tough, they were told by advisers to make the obvious choice — books over blocks.

"The situation hasn't changed at Harvard since I came. No member of the coaching staff may recruit on the outside. So, we decided to work on the boys in school. Last spring we talked to 115 and 64 came out for football."

Lauds Greasy Neale

Yovicsin appears to have licked the problem that stymied previous Harvard coaches, for when some known accomplished players are not coming out for football, the spirit of those competing is not too high.

Yovicsin starred as a Gettysburg end, but admits learning most of his football while playing part of one season with the Philadelphia Eagles under the old master, Greasy Neale. That gave him the professional touch.

John Yovicsin was reported lost when he unexpectedly changed his itinerary in driving from Gettysburg to Cambridge during the negotiations which made him Harvard's 22nd head football coach.

With a flock of formidable sophomores and a corking freshman class, John Yovicsin now knows precisely where he is.

Ford Boasts Top Lifetime Hill Average

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ

NEW YORK (AP) — Although Whitey Ford never has won 20 games in any of his seven seasons with the New York Yankees, his lifetime won and lost percentage is the highest among active major league pitchers.

The short southpaw, just turned 30, has won 105 and lost only 40 for a .724 percentage, figures compiled by The Associated Press disclosed today. The leaders are based on pitchers with 60 or more decisions.

Maglie Closest

Sal Maglie, now with the St. Louis Cardinals, is closest to Ford. The 41-year-old "Barber," who began his big league career in 1945, boasts a .659 percentage. He has won 118 and lost 61.

Ford has been hampered by shoulder and elbow trouble. Despite these ailments, the stylish lefty had a 14-7 record in 1958 while posting a league-leaging 2.01 earned run average. His lifetime ERA is 2.60, also lowest among active hurlers.

Maglie, who achieved success with the New York Giants after a jump to the Mexican League, also has been with the Cleveland Indians, Brooklyn Dodgers and Yankees. He was acquired by the Cards last June, winning two and losing six.

Spahn Still Rolling

Milwaukee's Warren Spahn, whose 246 victories are among the most registered by an active pitcher, continued to rewrite the record books. The slender lefthander, 37, became a 20-game winner for the ninth time, breaking the modern major league standard of eight by a southpaw.

Spahn, who joined the Boston Braves in 1946, had a 22-11 record this season. This gave him a lifetime mark of 246-157 for a .610 percentage.

Warren pitched 23 complete games in 1958, two o fthem shutouts. In 13 full seasons he has hurled 43 shutouts—most by a National League lefty.

Bob Grim of Kansas City is runner-up to Ford in American League lifetime pitching percentages with 52-27 for .658. Cleveland's Ray Narleski is third with .650 on 39 victories and 21 defeats.

In the National League, Don Newcombe of Cincinnati is second with 130-73 and a .640 percentage. Los Angeles' Carl Erskine ranks third with 122-75 and .619.

Elliott's Record Mile Approved

LONDON (AP)—Australian Herb Elliott's mile run of 3 minutes, 54.5 seconds has been officially ratified as a world record the International Amateur Athletic Federation said Saturday.

Also ratified were marks set by Australia's Bert Thomas—13:10.8 for the three miles and 8:32 for two miles.

Elliott and Thomas set the marks at Dublin's Santry Stadium last July.

Tar Babies Meet Terp Frosh Friday

CHAPEL HILL—The University of North Carolina freshman football team will meet Maryland in Kenan Stadium here Friday at 2 p. m. It will be the only home game of the season for the Tar Babies, who have split even in their first two starts on the road.

Coach Bud Carson will attempt to get his Carolina team back on the winning track, having lost to Wake Forest, 20-12, two weeks ago. The Tar Babies opened their season with a fine 29-8 victory over the Virginia yearlings.

Games To Remember

Daugherty's Job Made Secure After Irish Upset

By DUFFY DAUGHERTY
Michigan State Football Coach

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) Without question, my most memorable game as a head football coach was Michigan State's 21-7 victory over Notre Dame at East Lansing on October 15, 1955.

I was just getting started in my second season as head coach of the Spartans after a debut in 1954 in which my first three games, which included only one Big Ten win, over two years. They had swept through their first three games of the 1955 season without allowing their goal line to be crossed.

The Fighting Irish were picked as seven-point favorites over us, and besides, the game was being televised nationally.

We got off to a good start—even before the game began. Carl (Buck) Nystrom, captain of the 1955 Spartans and now one of my assistant coaches, won the flip of the coin. Going into the second half with the score tied 7-7, we scored in both the third and fourth quarters to win, 21-7.

That game also was Walt Kowalczyk's first big day as a college football player. As our starting right halfback, the sophomore gained 91 yards in 10 carries for a 9-1 yard average. In this game he finally started to run with the reckless abandon which became his trademark and led him to become the great collegiate star which he was in 1957.

I'll always remember that game against Notre Dame because it was our "over-the-hump" game. It was the one that set us off on a winning streak which carried us to the Rose Bowl and a 17-14 win over UCLA.

But mostly I'll remember it as the big victory needed to solidify my coaching regime at Michigan State after a very wobbly start.

London Cry, 22-1, Wins

NEWMARKET, England (AP)—London Cry won the Cambridgeshire Handicap Race over a mile and a furlong at Newmarket today.

The winner went off at odds of 22-1.

London Cry won by half a length, with Falls of Shin second by two lengths over Aggressor, who had been the early favorite.

Guersillus was fourth in the field of 33 starters in the 116th running of the race.

Aggressor was the 4-1 favorite. Falls of Shin went off at odds of 25-1.

Denmark Leads In Bike Battle

CLEVELAND (AP) — Denmark's team took the lead Monday night in the nine-day bike race here, a lap in front of the German and the International entries.

In a 15-minute jam which started with the Danes a lap ahead, Germany took a fleeting lead, but Max Jorgensen and Rud Jacobson gained it back for Denmark. The Internationals, Monday's leaders, were unable to hold on the furious pace.

declared, "but I'm going to question my players today on the matter." . . . However, Tack Clark, Keyser's coach, emphasized when relating the incident, that so far as he was concerned the game was hard fought but clean . . . If Fort Hill or Allegany is seeking some good football and basketball attractions, they need not look past Windber, Pa. . . . The Ramblers are open for basketball games for December 5 and 19 and January 20 . . . Open football dates for next year are September 11 or 12, October 10 or 11 and October 30 or 31 . . . Interested school officials may arrange games by writing to Tom Durst, faculty manager, or by phoning him at the school, Windber 666 . . . Westinghouse High in Pittsburgh is also seeking football games for next season . . . Maybe some new attractions would help the sagging attendance at the local stadium, although scheduling new foes will be difficult from now on for the two local public high schools because of their commitments in the Cumberland Valley Athletic League.

McClure, Messinger WVU's Co-Captains

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) —Halfback Bill McClure and end Phil Messinger — both second stringers — were named by Coach Art Lewis today to serve as co-captains for West Virginia's game with George Washington here Saturday.

It marked the first time this season that at least one of the co-captains, named by Lewis before each game, has not been a first stringer.

McClure is a 6-foot 180-pounder from Charleston and Messinger, 6-foot-3 and 190 pounds, hails from Clarksburg. Both are seniors.

Eisenhower Lauds Sport For 'Fitness'

NEW YORK (UPI)—President Eisenhower, a one-time Army fullback, joined gridiron greats of the past and present Tuesday night at the official installation of the nine newest members of college football's Hall of Fame.

The nation's Chief Executive was presented with the National Football Foundation's First "Gold Medal Award" and later addressed members of the foundation and the Hall of Fame.

Praises Coaches

Among the other honored guests at the dinner in the main ballroom of the Astor Hotel were Gen. of the Army Douglas MacArthur, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, publisher Henry Luce, former Columbia coach Lou Little, Branch Rickey and leaders in many other fields.

President Eisenhower praised football and its coaches—for developing "fitness in youth," which he said was the "proper concern of all Americans."

"Morale — the will to win, the fighting heart — are the honored hallmarks of the football coach and the player," he said. "This morale — this will, this heart—we need not only as individuals, but collectively as athletic teams, as business organizations — indeed, as a nation."

Symbol Of Courage

MacArthur, in a statement, said that football was "a symbol of the nation's best qualities—courage, stamina, coordinated efficiency."

Named to the 1958 Hall of Fame were: the late Charles Barrett of Cornell (1913-1915); the late David C. Campbell of Harvard (1899-1901); Marshall (Biggie) Goldberg of Pittsburgh (1936-38); the late T.A.D. (Tad) Jones, former coach and star at Yale; Harry Kipke of Michigan (1922-23), who also coached at Missouri, Michigan and Michigan State; Francis L. (Pug) Lund of Minnesota (1932-34); Frank John (Dutch) Schwab of Lafayette (1919-22); Harry Stuhldreher, one of Notre Dame's Four Horsemen (1922-24)t and Harry Killinger (Cy) Young of Washington and Lee (1913-16).

Moore-Durelle Site May Shift

MONTREAL (AP) — The Dec. 10 light heavyweight title bout between champion Archie Moore and Yvon Durelle, the Canadian champ, may be shifted from Montreal to Toronto.

Promoter Eddie Quinn said he was negotiating with Toronto promoter Frank Tunney because of the five per cent tax the Montreal Athletic Commission imposes on fight proceeds. Quinn said the commission also is attempting to tax American television of the bout.

In Toronto, the tax bite would be two per cent. Tunney also has offered to give Quinn 10 per cent of the receipts.

Buffalo Coach Cited For Top Job Of Week

By ED FEINEN

Buffalo, N. Y. (UPI) — Don't mention his name to the Ivies; it's sheer poison.

His team is rated as a small college but already has knocked off two Ivy League opponents and could wind up with the best record in the school's football history.

That's the United Press International Coach of The Week, Dick Offenhamer, whose University of Buffalo team upset Columbia, 34-14, last Saturday and is winning him new-found respect as one of college football's up-and-coming bright young men.

"I personally didn't think we had too much of a chance against Harvard in our season-opener," Offenhamer said, "but I honestly felt we had a 50-50 chance to beat Columbia, even though we were the underdogs."

And beat them he did handily for Buffalo's fourth victory in five games this season against a schedule that's tougher than the university has taken on in past years. Since the 44-year-old Offenhamer became head coach in 1955, the Buffs have won 18 games, lost 12 and tied one.

Small college coaches have universal problems, Offenhamer says. Because player resources are limited, versatility becomes a prime asset and often a downright necessity.

"You work with what you have," Offenhamer explains. "What you lack in talen, your boys have to make up in courage. And the boys have to have the right mental attitude. That's a big factor."

O'Connor Given Confidence Vote

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI)— Leslie O'Connor has been given a somewhat shaky vote of confidence as president of the AAA Pacific Coast League.

The eight directors of the league presented a united front by stating following an all-day meeting Monday that they "unanimously reaffirmed" the retention of O'Connor for the third year of his three year contract.

But O'Connor had been asked to leave the meeting and, was called back to break a four-four deadlock between those directors who wished to fire him immediately, and those who preferred that he remain next year.

O'Connor had the option of resigning under pressure from the faction that did not want him, or stay in the job.

Browns Expecting 60,000 Fans Sunday

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns' exciting offense is winning more than games this year — it's winning customers.

Attendance at next Sunday's game here with the New York Giants is expected to exceed 60,000. If it does, it will be the third time in three home games that the Browns have drawn more than 60,000.

The opener here this year drew 65,403 fans, and 66,852 were on hand two weeks ago.

Colts Ask Waivers

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—The Baltimore Colts have asked waivers on punter Dick Horn. He averaged only 34 yards on 19 punts this season, including a weak 31.5 against Washington last Sunday.

Valley Rally Ties Bruce, Knights Hold WMI Lead

Before yesterday's "crucial" soccer game between the Valley High Black Knights and Bruce Bulldogs yesterday at Lonaconing, Western Maryland Interscholastic League observers contended there was little to choose between the two teams. And how right they were!

When the dust had settled after an exciting and well-played contest, the score was 2 to 2.

Valley, unbeaten since early in the 1953 season, jumped away to a 1-0 lead in the first period when Teddy Wilson, on an assist from Bobby Brown, kicked a field goal. That score stood until the fourth quarter when Ronnie Chiccehitto slammed in a pair of fielders which looked like "money in the bank" for the Westernport Bulldogs.

Knights Fight Back

However, with time running out George Lauder's free kick from about 30 yards away bounced off Bruce goalie John Price and Tippy Metts booted the ball through to give the Black Knights a tie. Valley had missed out on two previous opportunities when penalty shots by Metts and Pollock were stopped by Price.

Despite the tie, Valley remained in first place, one point ahead of Bruce, but the Bulldogs are still very much alive. In fact, coach Len Ritchie's barking booters can bite off their first championship since 1952 if they win their remaining three games against Mt. Savage, Beall and Flintstone regardless of how Valley fares in its two contests with Beall and Flintstone.

Price Stars At Goal

Johnny Meyers' Valley champs have won three and tied three for 9 points, while Bruce shows a record of three wins and two ties. Victories are worth two points and ties one.

Price excelled at goal for Bruce and "Baldy" Metz, halfback, and Chiccehitto, inside right, played outstanding games for the Bulldogs. Fullback Lauder and Pollock, Wilson and Metts on the forward line were Valley's best.

Beall tightened its grip on third place by defeating the Mt. Savage Indians at Frostburg by the score of 2-0.

A corner kick by Gibert Carter to Jim Duncan, who headed the ball through, gave Beall its first goal in the opening period. Duncan dribbled into a corner and passed to Jim Hansel for the Mountaineers' final tally in the fourth quarter.

Outstanding players in this game were Goalie Al Kamauff, Paul Petenbrink, Jim Gardner, Gilbert Carter, Freddie Hall and Jim Duncan of Beall and Dan Williams, Ed Trimble and Dale Hott of Mt. Savage.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A big mobile cement mixer rolled up to a site on Candlestick Point Tuesday and disgorged six tons of mix — the beginning of a new home for the San Francisco Giants.

The race to get the $15,000,000 city-owned stadium ready by next Sept. 1 had begun and is slated to continue despite legal measures to investigate.

The San Francisco grand jury is considering whether to investigate transactions involved in the city's negotiations for the site and construction of the stadium. City voters already have approved the deal.

Monte Cristo Show Listed As Disarming

Critic Declares It Beguiling Excursion In Corn

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—In a review of a play like Tuesday night's CBS-TV special, "The Count of Monte Cristo," some things must be conceded at the start:

1. The Count of Monte Cristo is hokey.

2. The Count of Monte Cristo is creaky.

3. The Count of Monte Cristo is preposterous.

However, now that we've swept the trivia under the rug, we can proceed to say that Tuesday night's "Du Pont Show of the Month" production of the Dumas diversion was a reasonably disarming 90 minutes.

The TV piece had its faults. The story is whale size and scripter Sumner Elliott seems to have had his troubles hacking away the blubber. He was not entirely successful. There were times when it was difficult to grasp who was doing what to whom and during one lumpy sequence when the count was shuttling between Constantinople, Parma, Zurich, Rome and Paris, I felt myself losing the road a little.

But despite its blemishes, "The Count of Monte Cristo" struck me as a beguiling excursion in corn. This sort of thing can remain playable over a long span only if its members seem to believe in it and bat it out with great seriousness and style. Director Sidney Lumet saw to it that the actors did swash their buckles with dash and splash and swagger. What's more, he kept his cameras moving in for the big image — the trembling hand, the tortured eye — at crucial moments and somehow, managed to carry it off.

There were several fine performances. Colleen Dewhurst held together two terribly difficult ballroom scenes almost single-handed. Hurd Hatfield as the Count gave that gentleman just the proper amounts of desperation and the daemonic. Solid portraits also were chipped in by Torin Thatcher, Max Adrian, Doublas Campbell and John Colicos.

The Channel Swim: There's considerable friction backstage on the CBS-TV "Garry Moore Show" between Moore and his producer, Ralph Levy. Albert McCleery, producer of NBC-TV's "Ellery Queen," is preparing a half-hour drama series based on offbeat suspense stories.

Jackie Gleason, Art Carney and Audrey Meadows will join forces to film some new "Honeymooner" half-hours for syndication to local stations. Gleason will junk his comedy format on Dec. 19 and devote his entire CBS-TV show to music. The show will feature Charlie Shavers, Charlie Ventura and Bobby Hackett.

Slight Oversight

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UPI) — Five persons failed to put money in parking meters at a new public parking lot, but authorities couldn't prosecute them. County commissioners never passed a law requiring a fee in the lot.

Plans Readied For SA Yule Cheer Appeal

The Salvation Army Advisory Board has appointed the committees for the 1958 Christmas cheer program for the needy folks of the area.

Robert G. Garner, vice chairman of the advisory board and chairman of the welfare committee, will serve as overall Christmas chairman this year.

Members of Garner's welfare committee are C. Murray Allen, Daniel Y. Browne, Frank Deffinbaugh, Hudson Nix and William Wendt.

Six sub-committees have been formed to handle various phases of the program. Two of them are doll dressing and toy program, which formerly operated as one committee. Captain Daniel K. Biggs, commanding officer of the Salvation Army Citadel, said these two activities have both expanded so much that it was considered wise to divide the functions into two separate committees.

The sub-committees include the following:

Kettle drive — Lewis J. Ort, chairman; Woodward D. Pealer, Robert W. Hainsfurther and John G. Thomas; Christmas orders and baskets — Milton Bernstein, chairman; Homer S. Higgins, Daniel Y. Browne, Duard H. Little and James S. Getty; doll dressing — William P. Wendt, chairman; Lt. Richard McConniel and John Ankeney.

Christmas parties — Charles E. Stutzman, chairman; Stanley E. Zorick, Frank Deffinbaugh and Carl R. Amtower; wrapping booth and publicity — A. D. Darby Jr., chairman; Earl M. Nonnenmann and J. Wallace Close; toy program — Russell G. Robeson, chairman; Theodore J. Klauenberg, Rev. William R. Snyder and James Stevenson.

St. John's Church Schedules Youth Education Program

A weekday program of youth education will begin in St. John's Lutheran Church on Wednesday, November 5, at 4 p. m., according to Rev. Russell E. Fink, pastor.

Young people in the fifth, sixth seventh and eighth grades of school will be given an hour of religious instruction. This will be followed by a light supper and meetings of the Young People's Choir, Acolytes and other youth groups.

The courses include "Bible Adventures" for fifth graders, to be taught by Mrs. Merle Shumaker; "I Want To Know" for sixth graders, Miss Susan Mostoller; and the catechism for seventh and eighth graders taught by Rev. Fink and his assistant pastor, Rev. Robert C. Huddle.

Young people who are not members of the congregation are welcome to attend and are encouraged to come to the church immediately after the close of public schools, Rev. Fink said.

A planned recreation program will be in progress until the instruction period begins. There is no registration fee. However, those desiring to enroll should register by calling the office of the church, PA 2-3238.

Greek Anniversary Marked By Gunfire

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—Cypriot gunmen shattered the calm of Greece's national "chi" or "no day" anniversary Tuesday. They fired six shots at government official Achilles Papadopoulos as he was parking his car in suburban Strovolos. All the bullets missed. Greeks marked the 18th anniversary of the rejection of Mussolini's surrender ultimatum.

City Proposes Solution For Storm Water

Following an inspection tour yesterday of storm water conditions prevailing on Virginia Avenue, city officials decided on a step-by-step plan for correcting the situation.

The inspection of the drainage problem which exists on Virginia Avenue from First to Fifth Street was made by Mayor J. Edwin Keech and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum.

Mayor Keech said he will recommend to Street Commissioner John J. Long that the correction of the situation be handled in steps.

The first phase, officials said, will be to install a catch basin, with curb and gutter inlets, at the southeast corner of Virginia Avenue and First Street.

As funds are available, another curb and gutter inlet would be installed in the south gutter midway between First and Second Streets and finally, if the situation warrants, a third inlet at the southeast corner of Virginia Avenue and Second Street.

The area is served by a combination storm and sanitary sewer which officials believe is adequate to handle the storm water which runs down the street if sufficient inlets are provided.

Nuzum noted that a similar situation on Virginia Avenue, between Fifth Street and the B&O Subway, was handled three years ago by the installation of two curb and gutter inlets.

Work would be done by Street Department crews.

For about four years, the city has been using the more efficient type of storm water inlets, which calls for a slot in the curb and gratings, which run parallel instead of at right angles, in gutters. This system would be used, of course, for the Virginia Avenue work.

The inspection followed a request made by the South Cumberland Business Men's Association at Monday's Council meeting.

Soldiers in the Belgian Army, under a new government ruling, will now be served butter instead of margarine.

PE Official Named Head Of Industry Promotion

The Industrial Promotion Committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will have as chairman Garland L. Johnston, district manager of the Potomac Edison Company.

Serving with him on the liaison, or steering, committee of this group are C. William Gilchrist, Joseph M. Naughton, Charles A. Piper, Henry W. Price and Albert W. Tindal.

Other members of the committee named by Earl D. Chaney, president, are:

The committee will continue the Chamber's long-standing efforts to increase the number of job opportunities in the Cumberland Area.

It will present to industrialists the features of the region which make it a satisfactory location for manufacturing and warehousing operations. It will solicit the attention of companies with plans for expansion or relocation and will work with them to arrange the conditions needed by them to begin operations here.

The committee will also continue the Chamber's cooperation with industries of the area in their programs to expand local operations.

58 CHRYSLER 2-DOOR HARDTOP

This is the last of our 1958 Chryslers and has been driven only 800 miles by one of the executives of the company. It will carry a new car warranty and title. The equipment includes automatic transmission with push-button controls, power steering, signal lights, backup lights, white sidewall tires, windshield washers, undercoat and many other small accessories. The body has a light green enamel paint and the top is white. The V-8 engine and torsion-bar suspension makes this car a pleasure to drive. Be sure to see this beauty before buying. Dear Abby - - -

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: How does a person go about changing the opinion of the entire neighborhood? My husband and I have had some pretty awful battles (with words). I've had the windows open and now the word has passed that we are not getting along, which is true to a certain extent, but I would prefer the neighbors to think differently for the sake of the children. I have to blow off a little steam now and then because life would be pretty boring if a man and his wife didn't have a few arguments. "TOUCHY."

DEAR TOUCHY: If you are concerned about what the neighbors hear, don't raise your voices until you've lowered the windows.

DEAR ABBY: I am at my wits' end with my son. He is 25 years old and hasn't worked steady since he came out of the Army five years ago. He's healthy, good-looking and considered smart. He gets jobs handed to him on a silver platter — but he doesn't keep them more than a week. He walks the streets all day and comes home to eat and sleep. He says he "didn't ask to be born" etc., and if we don't help him out he will find some woman on welfare with children and go bunk with her. I spoke to my clergyman, and he said, "That's too bad. I will pray for him." Please tell me what to do about him. Abby. He is breaking my heart. HEARTSICK MOTHER.

DEAR HEARTSICK: If I were in your boat I would throw him out into the icy waters of reality and let him sink or swim. He is 25 years old, Mother, and it's time you cut the cord and told him to cut the nonsense.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl who is 13 years old. I have quite a few boyfriends who like me but I like one special boy better than the rest. My mother says she doesn't want me rushing things so I can't go steady with him. When we go to a show or something and he walks me home, he goes to kiss me on the lips, but I always give him my cheek. He says this is "babyish" and maybe he's right, but I don't think I am ready to kiss a boy on the lips yet. When I give him my cheek and he complains, what should I do? SUE.

DEAR SUE: Turn the other cheek!

DEAR ABBY: I am 82 years old, am the mother of 7 children, 8 grandchildren and 4 great-grandchildren. I have always been in good health, worked hard, am active and live alone in my own home. I like it that way. I go and come as I please, sleep when I like and am in no one's way. Now the children feel that I am too old to live alone. They want me to break up y little house and live among them. I can't see why I can't go on living as I have. I live only one block from one of my sons, have a phone by my bed and I am happy here. Should I do as the children say? Please give me your opinion. Thanking you in advance. UNDECIDED.

DEAR UNDECIDED: This decision should be left up to your doctor. If he feels that you are able to live alone, I think you should definitely continue to maintain your independence.

DEAR ABBY: If people have to wear glasses, why don't they wear glasses? I have a friend who passes me up on the street all the time. I practically have to knock her over to get her to recognize me. Then she says she is sorry but she wasn't wearing her glasses. If people who need glasses think they look better without them, they are sadly mistaken. They squint and screw up their faces until they look like monkeys. I hope those guilty parties will put on their glasses and read this. "TWENTY-TWENTY."

DEAR TWENTY: Perhaps the ladies believe the little rhyme: "Men never make passes at girls who wear glasses." If so, they should get modern and learn: "Contact lenses trap more menzes."

CONFIDENTIAL to Steve: Careful, Son. The gal who advertises rarely delivers.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Jacoby On Bridge

Squeeze Nets Extra Trick

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

It pays to play for overtricks any time you can do so safely whether the game is duplicate or rubber bridge.

Now try to make an overtrick at your five club contract. Dr. George Rosenkranz of Mexico City did by means of a dummy reversal followed by a squeeze.

	NORTH	29
	♠ 10 7 2
	♥ 6 3
	♦ 7 5 2
	♣ K Q 10 9 8
WEST		EAST
♠ J 6		♠ Q 9 8 5
♥ 8 7 2		♥ K J 10 5
♦ J 9 8 4 3		♦ A K Q 10
♣ 6 3 2		♣ 7
	SOUTH (D)
	♠ A K 4 3
	♥ A Q 9 4
	♦ 6
	♣ A J 5 4

Both vulnerable

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	2 ♣	Double
Redbl	2 ♦	3 ♣	3 ♦
5 ♣	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♦ 4

East won the opening diamond lead with the queen and could have spoiled the doctor's play if he had shifted to a trump, but East played a second diamond and no one can really blame him.

George ruffed, led a club to dummy's ten, ruffed the last diamond with his ace of trumps and played two rounds of trumps. East discarded a spade and his last diamond. George, who had completed the dummy reversal part of his play, let the three of spades go.

Now George led a heart and finessed the queen. He continued with the ace and another heart which he ruffed in dummy.

Now he was ready for the squeeze part of his play. He led dummy's last trump and East was in a vise. If he threw away his king of hearts it would establish George's nine spot so East discarded a second spade.

Now George let his nine of hearts go and made the last three tricks with the ace-king and four of spades.

♥ CARD Sense ♠

Q—The bidding has been:

East	South	West	North
1 ♣	Double	Pass	1 ♠
Pass	3 ♠	Pass	4 ♦
Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ K J 10 6 ♥ A K Q 9 8 5 ♦ 6 3 ♣ 4

What do you do?

A—Bid four spades. You may be tempted to think of a slam but you must bear in mind that your partner has merely bid one spade at his first chance to act. It is too much to expect that he will have two aces and the queen of spades.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding has been:

East	South	West	North
1 ♣	Double	1 ♥	1 ♠
Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ A Q 5 ♥ K J 7 3 ♦ A 10 6 3 ♣ 5 4

What do you do?

Best Check By Vatican Historians Shows John XXIII Is Church's 262nd Pope

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Newly-elected Pope John XXIII is the 262nd pope of the Catholic Church according to the best check by Vatican historians.

When the late Pius XII was elected in 1939, he was first listed as the 262nd pope of the Catholic Church. This was based on the assumption that the first six popes of the church were: (1) Peter, (2), Lino, (3) Cleto, (4) Clement, (5) Anacleto, and (6) Evaristo.

The constant research that goes on in the church, however, established in the early 1940's that Cleto and Anacleto were most likely the same person. The list was then revised to make the first six popes thus: Peter, Lino, St. Anacleto or Cleto, St. Clement, St. Everist and St. Alexander I.

Thus, the late Pope Pius XII himself moved back one to number 261 and the newly elected pope becomes 262.

Federal Jury Calls Reputed Pa. Gambler

Special Jurors Probe Rackets In Two States

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—A federal grand jury was expected to hear testimony today from John Fontana, reputed New Kensington, Pa., gambler in its investigation of rackets in Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Fontana, a defendant in a vote fraud trial here in 1955, was one of several reputed rackets figures subpenaed by the jury.

Thomas (Sonny) Ciancutti, New Kensington, testified for 45 minutes Tuesday. It was believed Ciancutti, allegedly the chauffeur of Westmoreland County racket boss Gabriel (Kelly) Mannarino, was questioned as to Mannarino's whereabouts.

Mannarino has kept out of sight of process servers for several months. He disappeared when New York authorities began investigating a "congress of crime" held in Appalachin, N.Y., which Mannarino attended.

U.S. Attorney Hubert Teitelbaum, who ordered the investigation, refused to comment on a visit to his office Tuesday by Henry Katz who recently was acquitted of charges that he paid protection money to Pittsburgh patrolman John James.

Other witnesses testifying before the jury Tuesday were Gregory Manos, brother-in-law of Wheeling, W. Va., gambler William (Big Bill) Lias; William Heil, Tommy Betras, and Sam Simon, all of Wheeling.

Witnesses from Westmoreland County included Jack (Mule) Quint, reputed Greensburg gambler; Arthur DeFelice, Arnold and Harry Gordon. Pittsburgh clothing manufacturer David Lawrence and Louis Ezor also appeared as witnesses.

Maryland Grandmother Proved Typhoid Carrier

BALTIMORE (AP) — About 20 years ago, a Dorchester County woman contacted typhoid fever. But it was such a mild case she did not realize it.

At any rate, she became a carrier of the illness. Five of her grandchildren recently came down with typhoid fever, which she passed on a generation later.

The State Department of Health said today it has been possible by laboratory tests to identify the grandmother as a typhoid carrier.

Dr. Charlotte Silverman, chief of the Division of Epidemiology and Communicable Disease Control for the State Health Department, said it is possible to carry the typhoid germ for years after having recovered from a typhoid fever illness.

The grandmother will be placed under treatment in an attempt to eliminate the carrier situation, the department said.

The family was not named. The five grandchildren have recovered completely after treatment with modern drugs, Dr. Silverman said, and others in close contact with the grandmother are being treated with typhoid immunizations.

"This recent outbreak of typhoid fever clearly points up the necessity of continuing vigilance against unsanitary conditions and improper waste disposal and emphasizes the necessity for careful control of the quality of drinking water supplies, including waters where oyster beds are located," Dr. Silverman said.

In the '20s, more than 1,000 typhoid fever cases were reported yearly in Maryland. Since 1951 each year. So far this year there have been about 25 cases there have been 10 cases reported, including the five Dorchester County grandchildren.
